Summary: Sonic and his friends get sent into a new dimension one filled with ponies? This should be fun.

1. Chapter 1

A Transdimensional Adventure

Chapter 1: New Adventure

(P.O.V. None)

It was a normal day in Mobius, bright, sunny, and just pleasant. A blue streak can be seen traversing the land at speeds not possible for any normal person. We look closer to see that its a blue hedgehog running through a canyon just enjoying the feel of wind passing through his quills. Yes this is the hero of Mobius the one person everyone looks up to and his name is Sonic the Hedgehog as fast the wind and just as free. "Come on slow poke I thought this was supposed to be a race!" he shouted back behind himself to another hedgehog. A white streak could be seen catching up to him in little to not time at all. "Watch do ya mean I'm right here blue boy and I'm gonna be losing to you anytime soon, especially since this is our tie breaking race." the white hedgehog said. This hedgehog is Soler a hedgehog who doesn't much like to bring up his past. He has white quills that are in a style much like sonics except on of his middle quills points upward. Blue streaks can be seen on his quills on his head, ankles, and wrists. His gloves and shoes both have identical X marked straps on them also. The two hedgehogs were racing through the canyon to break a tie between the two. Ever since Soler popped up around Knothole a long time ago he and Sonic have been friends and rivals always trying to one up the other or show who's superior. They where neck and neck blazing through the canyons. "Come on blue I know you can go faster than that." Solar teased him as he took the lead on him. "As if!" Sonic retorted as he caught back up with him, "Lets see if you can keep up kid." Sonic said as he ran past Soler. Soler just watch as Sonic took the lead and started to park core of the terrain. He jumped off the ground onto the side of the canyon walls and wall ran along them until he triangle jumped off one wall to the other until he reached the top of the canyon. Solar was kinda amazed by his agility but he wouldn't let him get the benefit of knowing it, "Yawn. Sorry was that all you got I can do that in my sleep." Soler shouted. Sonic smirked and rolled his eyes. "But Sonic if you noticed while you were doing your little performance you lost some of your speed." Soler stated which made Sonics smirk fade away. "So what if I lost some speed I'm still gonna win." He said in a cocky tone. Soler shook his head, "Yea good luck with that blue I'll see you back at Knothole slow poke." he said as he boosted off in front of Sonic. Sonic grated his teeth, "Can't let him win." he thought as he boosted himself to catch up to him.

"I wonder where they could be?" said a red echidna who looked highly irritated. "I'm sure there just racing here like normal you know how those two are when there around each other." said a yellow two tailed fox. The irritated echidna was Knuckles the guardian of the Master Emerald and the fox name is Tails who is the youngest of them all but has been through just as much so no one questions his intellect. The two were waiting on the Hedgehogs to get there, one of tails machines had been picking up weird readings lately and wanted them to check it out. "I mean there supposed to be the fasted things alive but there late." Knuckles said to Tails, "Fastest by butt." "Come on Knucks I'm sure there almost here as we speak." Tails said trying to reassure the echidna. "Tails you've said that five times already." he replied. Tails was going to rebuttal but couldn't think of anything so he just blinked and went back to looking out for them. Just as Knuckles was about to shout some more they saw two dust clouds moving towards them. Tails got out his binoculars to see who's coming know well who it is. He could see the two speedsters running neck and neck straight towards them. "See Knuckles I told you they were almost here." Tails said triumphantly. Knuckles just rolled his eyes and watch as they got closer. They were coming at them at incredible speeds. "There not gonna stop." Knuckles said blankly. "Yes they will they know how to control there speed to were they can stop themselves." Tails said in a factly way. "There gonna crash." Knuckles said again blankly. "No they won't like I said they'll stop themselves." Tails said reassuringly. Knuckles sighed, walked over, picked up Tails and walked out of the course of the two speedsters. As soon as Knuckles moved them both out the way the two came crashing into the doors that lead into Knothole. As the dust settled they could see the two speedsters tangled up with one another twitching from the pain. "Told ya." Knuckles said with a smirk.

And thats the first chapter of my new story. Im still kinda new with publishing on this site so I'm gonna start out the chapters short and chapter two will be up soon after this one so hang on with me and this story will get good. Solerwolf OUT!

Chapter 2: New Adventure Pt.2

(P.O.V. None)

It was another beautiful day in Equestria thanks to Celestia raising the beautiful sun. We find ourselves in Ponyville at an outstanding castle that houses one of this worlds newest princess. We find her in her library reading intently into a book that seems to have her full attention. So much of her attention that she didn't notice a little purple dragon walk in with a letter for her. "Hey Twilight I got a letter for you from Celestia." the dragon said. She didn't even flinch for her spot reading. "Uhh Twilight. You got a letter from Celestia, you know the part ruler of Equestria, your old mentor. Rings any bells?" he continued she still didn't move or notice his presents. "Sigh. I hate it when she gets like this." he said to himself. Just then a rainbow mane colored pegasus trotted into the room. "Hey Twilight you ready for some more flying practice." the pegasus said but she then noticed that she wasn't the only one trying to get her attention. "Hey Spike." she said and the dragon looked behind him. "Hey Rainbow Dash. You need Twilight too huh." he asked her. "Yeah she wanted some help with some flying so I offered to help with some practice. But it seems that she's wrapped up into another one of her books huh?" Spike nodded his head, "Yeah and I need her because I just got a letter from Celestia for her but she hasn't even noticed me." Rainbow put a hoof to her muzzle as she was thinking of a way to get her out of that book. Then an idea popped into her head and she grew a very mischievous smile. "Hey Spike I think I know a way to get her away from her book." Rainbow said mischievously, "I'll be right back." she left the room with Spike wondering what she's planning. Rainbow returned but with a small cloud in her hooves as she flew behind Twilight. "Rainbow what are you..." "Shush! Now just watch the magic." she said. Rainbow landed on top of the cloud and began to bounce on it. The cloud are into a dark black as you could hear the thunder within it. Just as the cloud built up as much as it could Rainbow did one final pounce into the cloud which cause a huge lighting bolt to come out and strike behind Twilight. All that was heard was the lighting and a scream. "CRASH!" "AHHHH!" Twilight screamed and she somehow flew to the ceiling of the room panting hard as if her life was a stake. Rainbow and Spike were on there ground laughing uncontrollably at the sight. As Twilight was regaining her surroundings she saw the two on the ground laughing at her. She landed right in front of the two with a massive scowl on her face. "Why would you DO THAT!" she shouted at the two who were still having laughing fits. "Because you were to wrapped up tip that book of yours to notice us." Rainbow managed to say in-between her laughing. "Yeah Twi you were so into that book you didn't notice us so we had to find a way to get you out of it." Spike added as he was winding down from his laughing. Twilight didn't look anymore amused from the explanations, "Well oh I don't know maybe you guys could've just shook me or touch me or something. You didn't have to do all of that." she exclaimed. "Well yeah we could have but this was way more funny." Rainbow said as she cooled off from her laughing also. Twilight just let out a sigh as she shook off the scare, "So what was it that you two wanted thats so important that you had to take me away from my book." Twi asked. "Well I wanted to see if you were up for some practice with those wings of yours." RD said, "Yeah and I came to give you this letter from Celestia." Spike spoke up. Twilight levitated the letter from Spikes hands and read it.

_Dear _Twilight Sparkle, _

I hope you and your friends are doing well and that learning more on how to be a mentor towards Starlight Glimmer helps you become a better leader. I write to you today to inform you that I have been feeling shifts in space and Luna has been also. We don't know too much into subjects ourselves since we rarely have to. We wanted to inform you incase any weird or unusual occurrences might happen around ponyville. Thank you. Sincerely Princess Celestia.

Twilight finished the letter and placed it down on a near by table. "So what did the letter say Twi." Spike asked. "Oh nothing major just the princess saying hi and checking up on us is all." she responded back, "So Twilight you still up for some flying?" Rainbow chimed in. Twilight thought on it for a second, 'Maybe if I fly around I might be able to see if anything is out of place around Ponyville.' , "Yeah RD lets go fly around for a bit." she said back. Rainbow flew up with glee, "Oh yeah! Now I can show some new moves that I've been working on and its going to be sweet." RD exclaimed. "I'll stay here and clean up a bit before heading out." Spike said. With that last exchange Twilight and Rainbow flew out of the castle. As they flew above ponyville Rainbow was going on about some new tricks she learned from some of the wonder bolts and about how she and Rarity solved a crime. As she was going on with her stories Twilight wasn't paying much attention to her as she was just making sure that everything was in order around ponyville. The cake shop was still in place, Sweet Apple Acres still had apples on the trees, no ponies were running around in a panic, everything was normal. She then noticed that Rainbow was in the middle of one of her stories so Twilight decided to tune in to hear the end of it. "So we all were back stage and Rarity showed them all her evidence and cleared my name. It was so Awesome to apart of the show." Rainbow finished. "Yeah that sounds like it was a real adventure Rainbow." Twilight said. Rainbow looked at her with a knowing look, "Twi you weren't paying any attention to my story were you?" RD said. A sweat dropped down the side of Twilights head, "Well uh you see I uhh...No no i wasn't sorry." Twilight apologized. Rainbow sighed, "It cool Twi just tell me whats on your mind." "Well Celestia said more than just hi but she said that she and Luna have been feeling some distortions in space and that some things might be out of the normal but everything looks fine." "Maybe the princesses were wrong this time." RD said. "Yeah maybe your right." Just then there was a bright flash in the sky that blinded them both. There was no noise to it, it was just a bright flash that lasted for a few seconds then faded away as if it never happened. They both opened there eyes again and looked around to see that everything was fine. "I don't know what that flash was but I don't like it." RD said just then they heard a boom and in the distance saw a white blur moving fast into the overfeed forest.

_Thats chapter two. I might push the first part into another one depending on how I feel the story is going to progress. Thanks to those who have left some __reviews and those who have read and I encourage others to do the same. Well I should have Ch 3 up sooner or later depending on school and such. So this is Solerwolf OUT!_

3. Chapter 3

You know the drill.

Chapter 3: New World

(P.O.V. Tails Lab)

We come back to our heroes together in Tails lab as Tails was showing them his new data and the hedgehogs were recovering from their crash from earlier. "Man blue your head hurts." Soler said as he was rubbing his head. "Well, your heel hurts. It landed right in my gut." Sonic retorted back, "Well my heel wouldn't have gotten your gut if you would have learned how to stop properly." Soler said back. "Well you wouldn't know hard my head is if you would've just backed off at the end because you knew I was going to win." Sonic said smugly. This made Soler get in his face mad, "What do you mean you had the race clearly I had the race you just didn't want to admit defeat like you should've." Soler shouted, "Well what you think I'm just gonna lie down and let you win a race I clearly had. As if dude." Sonic shouted back. "You had? No you mean I had the race slow poke." Soler said back. "As if I had the race.'" Sonic replied, "No I did." "No, I did." "No, I did!" "No I did!" the two went back and forth for a while as Tails and Knuckles were looking at the data Tails had collected. "See Knucks there seem to be shifts going on in our reality and it's spiking at random times." Tails said to the echidna. "Yeah, your right that's weird." Knuckles replied as he looked at the data. "You know I could be able to interpret your data more if there wasn't two KIDS ARGUING!" Knuckles shouted and looked back at the two hedgehogs. They stopped arguing and smiled sheepishly at Knuckles, "Sorry Knucks." they said in unison. Tails had a sigh of relief, "Now would you two come over here at look at this. It's weird." Tails said to the two. Both hedgehogs walked over to his computer to look at his data. "Tails this looks like a bunch of lines to me." Sonic said. Soler smirked and rolled his eyes, "Clearly these lines show shifts in reality that are causing spikes to happen. Right Tails?" he said. Tails nodded, "Exactly correct." Soler looked at Sonic with a look of triumph. Sonic just rolled his eyes and crossed his arms, "Oh sure Mr. know it all I'm sure you just knew all of that. Well, what else can you say about the data from just looking at it." Sonic retorted. Soler looked at the data closely, "Well I can say that these shifts aren't temporal meaning that these are dimensional shifts which is very interesting." He said without looking back at Sonic. Sonic looked at Knuckles for an explanation but he looked just as lost as he was. "Uh, Tails can I get an English translation of that." Sonic asked, Tails laughed a bit and replied, "What he means is that the shifts aren't time-based meaning that there are no shifts in time happening but shifts in dimensions. But the bigger question is why this is happening and to what dimensions?" Tails looked puzzled at the data as he was trying to wrap this around his head. Soler had the same puzzled look on his face also, "Tails do you think this might have anything to do with the chaos emeralds?" Soler asked him. Tails thought about it for a second, "Maybe I mean there's still so little we actually know about the emeralds that they could be doing this. Can you and Sonic summon the emeralds for me." He asked. Soler blinked once and looked at Sonic who had the same blank look. "Tails we don't have all the emeralds." Sonic said, then a light blub turned on in his head "Oh wait yes we do." he said. Soler looked at him for a second still puzzled but then remembered that they do have all the emeralds with them because just recently Sonic and himself had defeated Eggman once again and kept all the emeralds he had collected. Tails and Knuckles both facepalmed themselves because of the two hedgehogs lack of memory. The hedgehogs smiled sheepishly and closed their eyes in concentration. Then the seven chaos emeralds appeared around them and landed on the ground. "Here they are and in all their glory." Soler said. Tails walked over to the emeralds and picked up one of them. He put into a slot in his computer to get some readings on it. The emerald seemed to just be giving off its normal mystical readings. "Hmm, maybe my machines can't pick up any different readings. Soler do you think you could try and use the emeralds to pick up anything different about them." he asked as he tossed him the emerald back to him. He caught it and looked at it well you know I'm not super strong in using chaos energy, shouldn't we be asking Shadow this I mean he's the one who has been training me in using this energy." Soler pleaded. "Well we would ask Shadow but he's not here and is probably on some mission for G.U.N so who knows where in the world he is." Sonic said, "So you're all we got." Soler looked at the emeralds, "Okay I'll try." He walked over to the circle of emeralds and sat in the middle of them. He closed his eyes and concentrated on their power and energy. At first, he didn't feel anything but as he continued to concentrate he started to feel their power. This was the one thing about the emeralds Soler liked and feared the sense of endless power they give off, even when he's holding one of them he gets just a small fraction of that feeling and that power. "So do you feel anything different about them?" Tails asked him. "No, not yet." Soler replied as he kept concentrating on them. Then out of nowhere he felt a surge of energy that wasn't the emeralds doing. "Hey Tails I felt a weird surge, do you think it was one of the shifts?" Soler asked, "It could be, see if you can pinpoint where that surge is coming from." Tails replied. Soler nodded and reclosed his eyes trying to concentrate on the surge. At first, it was hard just getting small ripples from it but the more he concentrated on it the bigger the ripples got and eventually it began to feel like it was opening up to something he's never felt before. "Hey uhh, Soler think you could turn off the emeralds." Sonic said, "What do you mean turn them off? I can't turn them off." Soler replied, "Well think you could do something because things are getting bright." Sonic said back. Soler opened his eyes and could see that all the emeralds were brightly glowing more and more per second. "Soler what are you doing?" Knuckles said as he and the others were backing away from him, "I'm not doing any of this I can't control this!" Soler said. The emeralds light was getting blinding and all they could do was close their eyes and hoped it stopped.

(P.O.V. Soler)

It felt like the wind was flowing passed me as if I was running but I know I had to be sitting. I opened my eyes and saw that I was falling at extreme speeds to the ground. All I could say was, "Oh shi-!" as I face planted into the ground. "Huh, so this must be what Sonic felt like when he always faceplants into the ground," I thought to myself. I pulled myself from the ground and looked around at my surroundings, It looked like I landed behind some cottage in a vegetable garden. I quickly got out of the garden in fear of messing up this person's crops any more than I already did. There seemed to be some sort of forest back behind this place too but it looked wrong and twisted in a way. I don't like the vibes I'm getting from that place. I decided to jump up on top of the cottage to get a better look at my surroundings. My first impression was that I'm definitely not in Mobius anymore, my second impression was that this place is super bright and colorful, third impression it looked like that the small town at the bottom of this hill had a massive castle near the other end of it, and lastly It looks like that there are technicolored ponies in town. This place was going to be an adventure for sure. I then remembered the emeralds and tried to sense if one was around and luckily one was, it seemed to be in front of the cottage. I easily found it since it glowing a bit. I then needed to see if I could find any of the guys but how. Wait I remembered that Tails gave us communicators that track each others. I quickly got mines out (Don't ask where) and turned on the radar. It was a little scrambled from the fall but it still worked and it looked like the nearest person to me was coming from the forest, and they weren't that far away. I ran back to behind the house and into the forest to find a friend in this new world.

That's chapter 3 people. This story has made me so hype to keep going especially since there are others who like it also. I should be getting the next chapter up soon too, and to the person who talked about who I should ship I love your ideas and some of those ships will be happening but which ones who knows. Welp that's all so this is Solerwolf OUT!

4. Chapter 4

I'm not even going to say anything.

Chapter 4: So Your a Pegasus huh?

(P.O.V. Twilight & RD)

The white streak went into the everfreed forest behind Fluttershy's house and it was moving fast. "Okay, Twi I know you saw whatever that was right?" Rainbow said. Twilight nodded her head, "Yeah whatever that was it's fast, really fast." Twilight finished, Rainbow looked offended, "It's not that fast I could catch up to it in a heartbeat." she said. "Well, you might have to RD we don't know what that thing is or where it came from. For all, we know it could be dangerous and it's entered the forest I don't like it." Twi said she looked at Rainbow, "Rainbow I need you to catch up and follow that thing while I get the other girls. See if you can lead it back out in the opening or to the old castle of the princesses. We'll meet you there as soon as we can." She said in a serious tone. Rainbow smirked back at her accepting the new challenge, "You got it Twilight but you know I might just take it down while I'm at it, you know if you guys don't catch up." Rainbow said, coolly. Twilight just shook her head, "Well if you do that's even better now go before it gets too far away." and with that the two went to their task Twilight to get the others and RD to chase the mystery creature.

(P.O.V. Soler)

"Okay, now this forest is just confusing," I said as I was traversing this forest. It wasn't your average forest it felt like there was something mystical about it that just unnerved me. I was following the tracker to whoever was giving off the signal but it seemed as if the forest itself didn't want me to succeed. I was running at a moderate speed jumping over stumps and ducking under branches but it seemed like it just got more dense the more I continued. I stopped to see if I was getting any closer to the signal and I was to my surprise, it looked like they were only just a little more distance ahead of me. I decided to climb a tree to see if I could get a better look at the area and to my surprise once I got to the top I saw a castle in the distance. "Man that place looks awesome I would look to explore that place," I said to myself. I looked at my tracker and to my luck, the signal was coming from in the direction of the castle. I smirked, "My lucky day." I hopped back down the tree and once I did it felt like there was something else coming towards me. I stopped to see if I could use a chaos energy trick to pinpoint them. I closed my eyes and felt to see where it was coming from and it was coming from the same direction I came from, and it was coming fast. I thought that It couldn't be Sonic because then I would be picking up his signal so who was it. I thought of running but realised that I wouldn't be able to go full speed to outrun it so I got into a battle stance and waited for it. My wait wasn't long because I heard rustling in some bushes and what popped out surprised me more than I thought it was.

Rainbow had caught up to the creature and was planning on doing a surprise attack on it but when she popped out of the bush she was surprised to see that it was waiting on her. It was staring at her with curiosity and amazement. "So you're a rainbow mane coloured pegasus...cool," it said. "And you are some weird rat?" That ticked him off a bit, "HEY! I'm not a rat I'm a HEDGEHOG!" he shouted. "Yeah yeah hedgehog, rat whatever you are doesn't matter because you're going down." the pegasus said. "What can't get a date first, I don't normally fight talking rainbow mane coloured pegasus without a good meal first." he joked. "Yeah your joking now but once I take you down you won't be joking," she said as she charged him. The hedgehog easily dodged the attack and got behind her, "Look I'm sure you are a decent fighter but I don't want to hurt you. I think it'll hurt my credibility if I did." He said to her but she didn't listen to him and charged at him again but much more faster. This caught him a little by surprise at her speed but still dodged it easy enough my jumping over her as she passed. This seemed to only make her madder. "Ok look I don't know where you came from but you not taking this fight seriously is seriously not cool." she said. "Well, I might take it more seriously if I at least know your name." He retorted back. "Why should I tell you my name you're going to be in the dirt soon enough." "Well you said something along those lines earlier and I'm still up aren't I? Come on at let me get your name look my name is Soler...Soler the hedgehog." Soler said to her. She thought for a moment and decided to give him her name at least, "My name is Rainbow Dash fastest flyer in Equestria." RD responded. "Rainbow Dash huh nice name fits the whole rainbow mane thing you got going on, and see that wasn't so hard now was it." Soler said. "No it wasn't but don't think this will chang the fact that I'm going to take you down." Rd said as she readied herself for another attack. Soler looked unamused he really didn't want to hurt her but she wouldn't back down. He noticed that there seemed to big two big wooden wolf type animals stalking up behind her and she didn't notice. "Uhh, Rainbow..." "Quiet no more talking your not getting out of this beat down." she said. Just as she was going to attack the two wolves pounced on her she turned to see the attack coming and closed her eyes ready for the pain but it never came. In fact, it sounded like the wolves were to ones in pain and it felt like something was holding her. She opened her eyes to see that Soler had protected her by picking her up and taking out the wolves. "No one is hurting her on my watch." he said in a serious tone at the two wolves. This seemed to frighten them and they scurried off. His body untensed itself as he looked down at Rainbow. She looked deep into his emerald eyes and he into her magenta eyes. She didn't notice but she blushed a bit from looking at him. "Are you okay RD?" he asked. She just nodded her head. He smiled, "Glad to hear it because as much as I like holding you I gotta go. So later." and he popped out of existence which left a floating Rainbow on the air for a few seconds before she hit the ground. "I'm gonna get that hedgehog back for that." she said as she finally noticed that her blush was still there.

That's chapter 4. This was my first bit of dabbling into the romance side of storytelling but I think I did ok. I'm going to try to at least upload two chapters a day maybe more if I'm really into it or less if because of other things. I like how this story is going so far do you guys like it? Welp anyway that's all the next chapter will be up sooner or later and until then this is Solerwolf OUT!

5. Chapter 5

It's that time again friends

Chapter 5: New Friends, New Misson

(P.O.V. Soler)

After my encounter with the locals, I'm back to my quest to find the missing friends. I teleported out in front of the castle I saw a while back but there's a gorge in between the castle and where I was. I looked down the gorge to instantly regretting it. Now I'm not afraid of heights, but looking down a gorge that's covered by mist, and that's giving off a malicious vibe doesn't make me want to go down it anytime soon. "Man what's with this place and having bad vibes," I said to myself. I looked across the gap and tried to calculate if I could jump across. "Well it is a big gap but if I can get enough momentum behind me I'm sure I can make the jump," I said somewhat confidently. I backed up as far as could and got in a running starting position. "Three...Two...One...GO!" and I boosted to the edge as fast as I could. Right before I reached the end I jumped with all my might. It felt like time was slowing down around me as I soared through the air to the other side. The cliff looked like it was only getting closer and closer, but then It started getting higher and higher. I realized then that I did not calculate my jump correctly as I plummeted down the gorge. "Why does this keep happening to me!" I screamed as I fell, I started to panic trying to think of how to get out of this then I facepalmed myself for being so stupid. "I'm so dumb. Chaos Control!" I said as I teleported myself in front of the castle. "I should probably lead with that next time," I said. I looked onward at the old castle that stood before me, it looked like that this place was once beautiful in its hay day so it makes me wonder why this place got left to crumble in this forest. Pushing my curiosity aside I entered the castle in search of whichever one of my friends was in here. I looked at my tracker to see that they only seemed to be a few feet in front of me. I looked up bit saw no one around. "Hello! Is anyone around?" I said and got no response. I checked the tracker again and it was still the same reading saying someone was around. "Sonic, Tails, Knuckles?" still no response. I looked around the room and as I did I got a better look at it and noticed that I was standing in a throne room. I could see two thrones sitting at the end of the room away from the doors. "So there were two rulers of this land, interesting but I wonder what happened to them?" I thought to myself. As I investigated further I noticed that one throne was partially destroyed and it didn't look like decay but from a battle of some sort. That's when I looked at my entire surroundings and realized that the parts I said looked decayed were actually destroyed. Holes could be seen in the ceiling certain parts of the tapestries looked like they were burned away it was weird. That's when I looked up at the two largest tapestries and saw that it had to be things on them but looked like polar opposites. One was bright and held the sun with what looked like some sort of pony with wings and a horn that was a clear white hovering over some bowing ponies. The other was of the moon and another one the type of ponies from the other one hovering in front of it with a bunch of sleeping ponies under it. But it wasn't the same pony from the other one this one's fur color was a lot more dark almost a midnight color. The part that sent a shiver down my spine was that the tapestry with the moon was partly burned up from the bottom. "Okay, so there was some sort of falling out in this land." I said. I shook off the feeling and remembered why I was there to get whoever was here, I looked down at my tracker and noticed that whoever it was was in a different place than this room. I followed the dot down a few of the corridors which was pretty confusing to the least. The signal led me to a door and whoever it was was right behind it. I opened the door to it leading to a bedroom of some sort that looked like it was still in pretty good shape. I looked around for whoever was in there and noticed that the bedsheets were moving. I slowly crept my way up to them taking a silent step...after step...after step until I was right behind it. I slowly reached for the sheets and just as I was going to touch it, "AHHHH!" "AHHHH!" I jumped back so fast I hit the ground. I looked to see a certain blue hedgehog looked back at me just as frightened. "It was YOU!" we said in unison, "Hey! Stop copying me!" we said again together. We both looked at each other for a moment and then started to laugh. We got up fist bumped, "Man Sonic am I glad to see you." "Yeah same here Soler I thought I was the only one who got sent to this world." Sonic said back. "Yeah man same here but at now we have each other." I said back. "So do you have any idea what world we're in?" Sonic asked me, "Well from what I know this place is called Equestria and the dominate species, check this are technicolored talking ponies." I responded back. He didn't look amused, "Sure it is." He said sarcastically. "I promise it is I've already run into one of the locals and she sure looked like a rainbow maned pegasus. But whatever we can discuss this later first let's get out of this castle." I said and he reluctantly agreed. As we walked out from the room we could hear voices. "This way girls that sounded like his voice coming from over there!" I deadpanned as I recognized that voice immediately, "She really doesn't give up huh?"

(P.O.V. Rainbow)

"I can't believe that hedgehog would do that to me." I huffed as I flew towards the castle. "I mean one he calls me weak, two didn't take our fight seriously, and three saves me and just dropped me. Oh! When I get my hooves on the hedgehog he's toast." I said to myself as I finally made it to the castle. "That stupid hedgehog saving me to seem cool, I could've handled those timberwolves myself." I said but then remembered his eyes as they were staring right into mine. He looked truly happy that I was safe and that I didn't get hurt. I could feel my cheeks blushing again thinking about it. "What am I doing blushing over some arrogant, cocky hedgehog who's eyes were mesmerizing." I said. I shook my head, "No can't be thinking of him that way." I was going to fly over to the castle but then I heard some rustling behind me. "Rainbow we finally caught up to you." Twilight said as she and the rest of the girls came into view. "Yeah took you guys long enough." I said. "Um, Rainbow darling are you blushing?" Rarity asked I noticed that I slightly was and turned away from them. "What no I'm not. Why would I be blushing?" I said back to her with my back to them. "Um, Rainbow it clearly looked like you were blushing." Fluttershy said quietly. "No, I clearly wasn't. Anyway, we should be getting back on topic of stopping that menace of a hedgehog." I retorted. "Hedgehog?" Applejack questioned, "You mean those little critters that spike up when there scared hedgehogs?" she asked. "Yes those types of hedgehogs but much bigger." this seemed to peak Twilights interest, "Where did it go? How did you see it? Did you meet it? What was it like?" Twilight asked rapid fire questions at RD. "Listen Twi I'll gladly answer those questions when we catch it. he went into the castle." RD respond back in an annoyed tone. Twilight scratched her head sheepishly, "Your right Rainbow lets stop this hedgehog first." Twilight teleported them in front of the castle. We made our way into the main room of the place. "Okay, so how are we going to find him now?" I said to the others. "Oh! Oh! I know! I know!" Pinke said excitedly. We looked at her, "Whats your plan Pink?" I asked. "Ok! so he's obviously a talking hedgehog right soo that means he has to like the smell of apple pie. So we lure him out with that." she said. We all gave her a blank look, "Um Pinke darling why would that lure him out?" Rarity asked the question on everyone's mind. "Well, hedgehogs like the taste of apples so if we have an apple pie he'll come to the smell of the pie and we catch him. Easy peasy." Before any of us could say anything back we heard a set of screams coming from down one of the corridors. I instantly recognized that scream. "It's him, girls, I recognize that voice anywhere. This way!" I shouted and flew in front into the corridors. As we were dashing through the corridors to locate him I just kept think, "He's so dead when I get him." but as we got further we couldn't tell where the voices came from. "Well darn it seems like done lost em." AJ said slightly out of breath. I was going to agree but then we heard voices and one of them were his. "Oh no, we haven't. This way girls that sounded like his voice coming from over there!" I shouted as we took off again.

_(P.O.V. none) _

The two hedgehogs could hear what sounded like a lot of hooves clopping their way towards them. "Okay, so we got get moving." Soler said. Sonic nodded in agreement and the ran down the corridor looking for a way but to no avail. They stopped at a crossway going left and right. "Okay, so I think we should go left." Soler said, "Well I thnk we should go right." Sonic said. "No we go left, left is always the best way." "No, but right is always right it's in the name." sonic retorted. "No, we go left." "No right." "No left!" "No right!" the two shouted and didn't notice that their pursuers had caught up to them. "There are two of you?" they heard a voice say. The two stopped there arguing and looked to see a group of ponies looking directly at them. "So you weren't lying about the whole pony thing." Sonic said. Soler rolled his eyes. "Told you I'd find you again hedgehog." Rainbow shouted at Soler, "Listen in quite flattered that you would go to all this trouble to see me again but don't you think its a bit too early for a second date." Soler said. This seemed to get her riled up and she also blushed a bit, "Well see who's making jokes once we catch you get em girls!" she said. Soler and Sonic looked at each other and both nodded. "Scatter!" and the two hedgehogs ran opposite ways. Soler to the right and Sonic to the left. "Split up girls!" Twilight shouted as the group split the chase the hedgehogs.

(P.O.V. Soler)

I was running through this place trying to find the main throne room it seemed to be the only way out. "Your not getting away!" I heard. I turned to see Rainbow followed by a pink pony, and a tan pony with a cowboy hat chasing me. "Listen girls we could avoid all this by just sitting down and talking things out like normal people okay?" I said, "Your not going to be talking your way out of this one hedgehog!" RD said. "AJ see if you can get your rope around him to slow him down." RD said, "Will down partner!" I heard one of them ponies say. I looked behind me to see the tan one pull out a rope and start to twirl it around and around like as if she was going to be catching a wild animal. I was kinda wondering how this was all going to play out. "Listen partner, I wouldn't do that if I were you." I warned slyly. She ignored me and threw the rope anyway. Surprisingly she actually caught me. "Ha caught the varmint." I heard her say in between her teeth. She stopped my motion almost completely. "Huh can't believe you actually caught me. I must be slipping." I said to myself. "Good work AJ! Now reel him in." Rainbow said. The tan pony who I'm guessing is AJ started to pull me in towards them and she was surprisingly strong. I was struggling to not get pulled all the way to them but with her strength, it wasn't doing me any good. Then a light bulb popped on in my mind and I thought of any idea that's so crazy it might work. I shouted, "Chaos Control!" and popped out of the ropes. Aj lost her balance and fell over. "Man I keep forgetting I can do that." I said "Welp good try girls but better luck next time." I said and sped off. I could hear Rainbow shouting behind me. I turned on my communicator, "Sonic try and meet me back in the throne room its seems that our only way out." I shouted into it. "Okay I'll meet you there." I heard him say back.

(P.O.V. Sonic)

"Man these ponies won't give up." I thought to myself as I was trying to make my way to the throne room like Soler planned but these ponies were making it hard. I had to keep dodging blast being sent from behind. I ducked as another one was sent whizzing past me. "Hey watch where your blasting that thing." I shouted back. "Well if you would stop we wouldn't have to keep blasting you with our spells." the lavender pony said. There was also a yellow pegasus and white unicorn with her. "Listen you cretin all this running is going to make my makeup runny which I do not like so do you think you can just give up now and stop all this running." The white unicorn said. "Good luck with that princess like I'm going to let you guys just catch me." I said back as I kept running. The blast didn't seem to stop coming as I was dodging like crazy I had to think of something to do to get them off my back long enough to meet up with Soler. Just then I thought of something that might work. I started to build up wind in my hands as I ran. The longer I built up the wind the stronger the wind around us was becoming. I could tell that they had noticed because the rate of blasts had slowed down a lot. "Whats he doing!" I heard the lavender one shout. "I don't know ." I barely heard a quiet voice say it must've been the pegasus. Once I had built up enough wind I came to a stop and turned in front of them. "Sorry ladies but I need to get out of here. _SONIC WIND!" _I shouted as I blasted them with the built up wind. It sent them flying back a distance away. It was enough of a distance that I could get away. "Later and sorry again." I said as I ran off. The last thing I heard before I got out of earshot was, "MY HAIR!"

(P.O.V. none)

Sonic and Soler had meet back in the throne room and were slightly out of breath. "So I see you got away from your group too." Soler said, "How did you lose them?" "I sent them back with a sonic wind attack, and you?" "I used chaos control when one tried to rope me. Soler replied. Sonic nodded his head, "So shall we leave." he said as he motioned towards the doors. "We shall my good man." I responded back. Just as we were about to take a step forward we hit a wall. "A wall?" I said as I felt in front of me, "Where did a wall come from?" Sonic asked as he tried to push it. "It's not a wall but my barrier." the two heard a voice. "Oh no." Soler said as they both turned around to see that they were trapped in some sort of cage. All the ponies from before were gathered back together. The only difference I saw was that the lavender, yellow, and white ones manes were a mess. The white one was giving Sonic the devil's stare, "How much wind was in that attack?" I whispered to him, "Maybe I added in a little bit too much." he responded. "Looks like we caught you just like we said we would. What do you got to say now hedgehog." Rainbow said triumphantly to Soler. He looked at her and said as slyly as ever, "Geez Rd if you wanted a second date that bad you could've just asked me." he finished with a smirk. This made her face turn red. He got a laugh out of that, "But yes it does seem to appear that you have caught us. We accept defeat this time."

End of chapter 5. Man this is by far the longest one yet. I've been reading some of the reviews from you guys and I thank you so much for them. I do agree with one of you that yes my first bit if the story is going fast and tbh I planned on them to go kinda fast just so that way I can get the main opposition set up so I can take my time with details. And yes I've trying to think of a way to get Shadow in the story so if you have any ideas your more than welcome to private message me it. Anyways that's all for now so Solerwolf OUT!

6. Chapter 6

Yep back at it again with a new...no not finish that just please read.

Chapter 6: Free

(P.O.V. None)

The mane six plus our two hedgehogs were traveling through the first back towards ponyville. Sonic and Soler were still caught in Twilight's bubble as they were being taken back to ponyville. Even though they were both caught they seemed to be extremely relaxed. Heck Soler was practically napping in the bubble and Sonic was just as relaxed as him. Seeing this made Rainbow irritated, she caught not just one but both of them but why were they so relaxed. She flew up to the bubble near where Soler was relaxing, "Hey we caught you and your completely relaxed." she started. He opened one eyelid and looked at her, "And?" he said, this got her relied up, "And your supposed to be oh I don't scared, worried, panicking, begging to be let out you know like what most criminals do." she said back at him. He yawns and looked at her, "Well were completely relaxed because one were not criminals and two I know your not going to hurt us." Solar said in a calm tone. She looked at him puzzled, "What makes you think that we won't hurt you two?" she asked back. "Well I could tell when I looked into your eyes.," he said back looking right at her. She was taken back by his remark and slightly blushed from the stare he was giving her. "He trusted me from just looking in my eyes? Who is this guy.?" she questioned herself. She flew into the back of the pack near Fluttershy with no more to say. Fluttershy looked at RD with a concerned look, "Rainbow are you okay?" she questioned. Rainbow popped out of her thoughts and looked at her, "Yeah Shy I'm okay, just thinking is all." she responded. Fluttershy seemed satisfied with the answer and left Rainbow to her thoughts. The group traveled a little while longer in silence, Rarity was trying effortlessly to fix her hair back but no matter how much she tried it wouldn't straighten out right. She trotted up furiously to the side of the bubble with Sonic in it, "Listen here you brute it will take me forever to get my hair back to how it was before. Where you raised with no manners!" she shouted at him. Sonic sheepishly scratched the back of his head, "Yeah like I said before I'm super sorry for that didn't mean to add in that much trust." he responded back. She just huffed at him and trotted back into the pack. As they traveled again in silence Sonic a thought came into Sonics mind. He turned back to the group of ponies, "Hey since it seems like were all becoming such good friends think we could get your names?" he started, "My name is Sonic the hedgehog, and the other one is Soler." Sonic said. Soler raised his hand when here'd his name without moving back to look at them. Twilight thought about his request and saw no harm in telling them. "Well okay I see no harm in it. My name is Twilight Sparkle, the Rainbow manned ones name is Rainbow Dash, the pink pony is Pinke Pie, the pony with the hat is Applejack, the white unicorn is Rarity and lastly the other Pegasus name is Fluttershy." she finished. Soler got up and turned around to look at them once she finished. He had been staring at Twilight very intently. She could see him staring at her and slightly blushed from being stared at, "Could you stop staring at me its a bit embarrassing being stared at." she asked. Instated of looking away he asked her a question, "Can you tell me are you some sort of royalty?" he asked her. His question took her by surprise, "Why yes I am. I'm the princess of friendship. How did you know I was royalty?" she asked him, "Well I just guided you were since you have a set of wings and a horn. Plus while I was in that castle I saw that the tapestries has two beings that looked like you just you know different." he responded. "Oh you must mean the two princess Celestia and her sister Luna. That was once their old castle." Twilight said. When Soler heard the name Luna his eyes grew wide for a second, but he shook it off just as fast. "Oh thanks princess." he said back a little less enthusiastically. The group of ponies took notice of how he reacted once Twilight said Luna's name. "Uh partner is there something you have to say about our princess Luna?" Applejack asked. He didn't look back the ponies but respond, "No just thinking of a different Luna it has nothing to do with yours." The girls just shook it off besides Twilight who let it go but still wondered what other Luna her was talking about. Sonic looked at Soler sympathetically, "You okay dude?" he asked as he placed a hand on his shoulder. "Yeah I'm good man just you know memories." Soler said back slightly smiling. The group continued in silence until made it back out of the forest and towards ponyville. As they reached the town and were crossing through the busy streets all the ponies' eyes were on the two hedgehogs. Soler and Sonic could feel the stares on them ad kind scrunched up to together near the center of the bubble. Rainbow saw this and smirked as she flew right up to the bubble, "What don't tell me you afraid of a few stares." she said boldly. "As if! Just you know being slightly cautious."

Sonic said. Rainbow rolled her eyes "Well you won't have to worry about the staring ponies for long were right at the castle were we can start the interrogation." Rainbow said excitedly. Soler rolled his eyes, "Oh "I'm so scared. Like I said before I know your not going to hurt us." he responded. Rainbow just looked at him and he did her, she was doing her best to give him her best death glare but he just looked calmly back into hers. They had there staring contest until Twilight snapped them out of it, "Look were finally at the castle." she said and they both looked at the towering castle. It looked like it was completely made of crystal which seemed impossible to Soler but let it go knowing that this world worked differently than theirs. When they got near the main doors of the castle they opened up by themselves. This puzzled with hedgehogs until they looked down to see a little purple dragon opened it. "Guys your back." the dragon said. He then looked at the two hedgehogs in the bubble. "So I see we got some new guess?" he said. "Well explain later Spike." Twilight said, "Right now I need you to write a letter to the princess telling them of the current events immediately. He nodded and ran off to do the task. Sonic looked at Twilight, "So I'm guessing he's your servant?" "No he's my assistant." Twilight corrected him. He nodded understandingly as they continued in the castle. The inside of the castle liked way bigger and spacious than the outside. The castle was complete crystal and so were there door also. There were little decorations on the walls but there were red carpets that lined the middle of the corridors. Whew. Nice place you got her princess." Soler said. "Thank you." The group then went into a big room with a large map in the middle and six thrones sitting around it. The bubble hovered over the center of the table as each of the ponies sat on their thrones. Twilight spoke first, "Ok now I don't need to ask your names but you two clearly aren't from this word so can you explain where you come from and why your here." she asked. Sonic spoke up, "Well we come from a place called Mobius and why were here is as best guess as mine." he said. This answer didn't seem to sit right with the ponies, "Well how did you two get here?" Twilight asked next. Over spoke up this time, "Well you see that's kind of a long story so to make it short we used these mystical gems to accidentally teleport us here." he said. That didn't help the ponies much more than the first answer. "Could you explain in detail what happened?" Twilight asked. The two hedgehogs looked at each other than back at her, "Do we have to?" they wined. She roller her eyes, "Ye yes you do." So they told them the whole story of how they got here and all the events that lead up to it. Soler even told them about how he felt something weird when feeling the chaos emeralds energy. That brought up another topic, "Hey what are those emeralds you guys keep taking about?" Pinke asked. Soler thought on how to answer, "Well to make it simple chaos emeralds are emeralds filled with a massive source of power called choose energy that only a few can harness and control." He finished explaining. "Well do you have any with you?" Rainbow chimed in. "Well we had all seven before we teleported but now we have none." Sonic said, "Actually I got one with me." Soler said and pulled out the deep blue emerald. When the girls saw the emerald they were amazed by it beauty especially Rarity. "That's one of the biggest gems I've ever seen." she squealed. Soler rolled his eyes and noticed that Sonic was giving him an annoyed glare. "What?" "When were you going to tell me that you had an emerald on you?" Sonic asked, "Well I was going to tell you once we got away but since we didn't get away I didn't get the chance to tell you." Soler responded. Sonic just shook his head. Snapping out of her gaze on the emerald Twilight spoke up, "Okay so like you said there are seven of these and they each hold a massive amount of uncontrollable power right?" Sonic nodded. "Yes and we need to find all seven if we want to have a chance of getting back home. We also need to find our friends there probably in this world also." he finished. "Are your friends more hedgehogs?" Applejack asked. "No ones a red echidna and the other is a two tailed fox." Soler said. Aj looked puzzled "Did you say two tails?" she asked Soler nodded. She let it go on how weird that sounded. "Okay so now that we've told you everything can we be let go?" Sonic asked. Twilight thought on it for a second, "Well you did tell us everything and you both seems to be innocent plus we need to get those emeralds before they get into the wrong hooves so yes you two are free." she finished and let them go on the side of the map. "Thanks Twi." Soler said, Rainbow flew up in his face with a mad look. "What's up doc? to something on your mind." Soler asked. "Don't think that just because you got let go this makes us friends or anything I'm still going to have my eye on you." Rainbow finished. "Well I hope you do." Soler responded and winked at her. She blushed hard and flew off from his face. He laughed a bit ant how frustrated she looked. Sonic walked up to him, "Hey man why do you do that to her you know it gets her flustered." he whispered, "Yeah that the exact reason why I do it. Plus its just harmless flirting. You do it all the time." Sonic was about to rebuttal back but nodded in agreement. Twilight walked up to the two, "Well it seems that you two will be staying here for a while so you're both more than welcome to stay in the castle. I have more than enough rooms." she finished. "Wow thanks Twilight." Sonic said. "Its no trouble at all I mean the only ones who stay here are myself, Spike, and my student Starlight Glimmer so there's more than enough room." before he could respond his communicator started going off. "What's that?" Fluttershy asked them as the rest of them gathered around the two. "Its our communicators. Our friend Tails made them for us for when were in the field or separated from each other and need to talk." Sonic said. He answered his, "Hello Tails, Knuckles come in." Sonic said. It was static at first but they could hear someone trying to come back. "Tails Knuckles your breaking up." Sonic said. Soler looked at the communicator, "Sonic let me see it for a second." Sonic gave him the communicator and he started to file with the nobs on the side trying to get a better signal. "Tails, Knuckles do you read?" he said. It was still static at first but as he kept fiddling with it they began to hear a voice respond back. "Hel...o...Son...ic...Sol...er...come...in..." Soler kept tinkering with it, "Tails, Knuckles were here respond." "Soler...Soler its Tails. I'm glad to hear your voice." They heard Tails respond. Sonic and Soler smiled glad knowing that he was all right. "Tails man its great to hear your voice, where are you? Is Knuckles with you?" Sonic asked him. "Yes he's with me and it looks like were in some sort of dusty town in the desert and it's filled with ponies." he finished, "Where are we guys?" Soler and Sonic looked at each other, "We'll explain later buddy right now you sit tight and we'll be right over there to get you. Soler out." Soler finished and closed the communicator. "Well at we know that there here and okay." Soler said, "But I wonder where they are?" Applejack spoke up, "Well it sounds like there in..." she was cut off by Spike abruptly coming in. "Twilight we you got a letter from the princess. She says that two strange creatures were sighted in Appleoosa. The sighting said that one was red and the other had two tails." Spike finished out of breath. Sonic smirked well It looks like were heading to Appleoosa!" he shouted and ran out the door. The ponies were about to say something but Soler stopped them, "Give it a second." Sonic came walking back into the room, "Does uh anyone know where Apppleloosa is exactly." he asked scratching the back of his head. Soler sighed and shook his head while the girls just looked dumbfounded that this hedgehog was that dense.

That's chapter 6. Whelp were almost at that point to where the whole plot will be set up I wonder acts going to happen to the gang next and who is this other Luna that Soler was thinking about. Well stick around and you'll find out! As you can tell I didn't know what to say at this ending. Soo anyway this was Solerwolf OUT!

7. Chapter 7

Yay! Another chapter!

Chapter 7: Reunited

(P.O.V. none)

Sonic was tapping his foot impatiently as the group rode the train to Appleoosa. He looked to Soler who was stretched out on the seat in front of him with his eyes closed, "Why couldn't we just run there. We would've already been there and back by now." he asked him. "Well do you know the terrain of this place?" Soler asked not looking at him, "Well no of course not we only just got here." "Well then that's why. We don't know this place so we could just as easily get lost running around from place to place." Soler stated. Sonic just huffed knowing he was right, "Fine." he said. "Good now just enjoy the ride and let me try and nap a bit." Soler responded back and turned over on his side. Sonic just sighed and went back to tapping his foot. Rainbow saw this and decided to go over and talk to him. She flew over to him, "Mind if I sit." she said, Sonic looked up and scooted over for her to sit which she did. "So I'm guessing that you don't like to sit still for too long huh?" She asked him. He nodded back, "Yeah sitting still for too long gets me antsy and needing some action." Sonic said back. "I know exactly how you feel, my friends tend to always want to take things slow when we could get them done quicker if we sped up the pace." she responded, "Yeah I know right I mean yeah sometimes slowing down is necessary but not all the time. I mean I'm glad I got Soler he tends to be the only one who can keep up with me but even he tends to want to take some situations slow." Sonic said back. "Yeah I mean what's so fun about going slow? If you ask me going fast and action is the best ticket." RD said. "I'm so with you there. To be honest I'm addicted to action and just going fast." Sonic said. "Same here. Weird we have almost.." "Identical personalities." Sonic finished her sentence, then the two looked at each other for a moment. Then they burst into small laughter, "You know your not have bad hedgehog." RD said, "Right back at you pony." He responded. Rainbow held out her hoof, "Lets properly get introduced. Hi I'm Rainbow Dash." she said, Sonic took her hoof and shook it, "And I'm Sonic the hedgehog." The two went back on into there conversations for the rest of the day until the night. Soler woke up from his sleep and stretched he looked around to see that the other ponies were asleep and to his surprise Sonic and Rainbow sleeping right next to each other with Rainbow leaning on Sonic. "Aww isn't that cute." He mocked in his head. Soler looked out the window to see a bright full moon. He got up and walked out the compartment to the back of the train. What he didn't know was that Twilight had awoken up when he walked by. "I wonder where he's going?" she thought and got up as silently as she could and followed him. He made his way to the back of the train where could get a full view of the moon. The feel of the wind blowing through his quills was so soothing to him. He looked up to the moon, "Hey Luna. How are ya doing?" he spoke to the moon. Twilight creped up just to the open door and could hear him talking to someone. "As you can see I'm on another adventure in a strange new place." still no response from anyone but he continued, "Yeah the guys here seem pretty nice and there super friendly I'm sure you would love it here. Yeah its really peaceful here too great place to take some naps and relax in." he continued. Twilight was becoming more curious the longer she listened, "Who is he talking to there's no one out there?" she thought to herself. She heard him speak again and listened in, "Yeah and check this there's someone here with your name, funny right?" he smirked but then he instantly grew a sadden face. "I miss you Luna and I know that I say it every time we talk but I really do miss you." he said as he looked up onto the moon. Twilight felt a little treat broken hearing how hurt and lonely he sounded which was completely different than how he acts around others. "Well Luna I'll talk to you later." Solar said. Twilight could feel he was about to head back and she quickly made her way back up the cart that held the others. She made it back in the nick of time as he entered only a few moments after she did. He looked around to still see the other asleep so he made his way back to his seat and looked back out at the moon. Twilight tried to get back to sleep but she couldn't as she heard kept replaying in her head. "He sounded so hurt and in pain. What happened to that poor soul that would hurt him so much." she thought to her self as her heart hurt a little bit still thinking on it and as he turned over and got one look at him as she saw his face matched just how he sound. This made a tear fall from her eye as she turned away go get back to sleep. Morning came as everyone started to stir away. Twilight got up and yawned as she wiped some sleep form her eyes. She liked over at Soler and saw that he was still looking out the window in the same position he was in last night. "Did he not sleep last night?" she thought. She remembered what she heard last night and it made her a little sad but she shaped up trying not to let him know that she heard him. "Morning Twi." Applejack said to her, which caught her by surprise. "Oh uh good morning Applejack. Sleep well?" she asked back. Applejack stretched, "Well I sleep as well as I could of those darn seats. Would it kill them to make them a little more comfy." she complained but stopped when she looked back at Twilight and saw how distressed she looked, "Uh Twi you feeling alright?" This seemed to state Twilight out of her thoughts, "Yes I'm okay Applejack. I mean why wouldn't I be okay on the glorious morning right?" Twi answered with a forced smile. Applejack knew Twilight enough to know when to not ask more when she was acting like that so she left it alone and back to her seat. Soler was still looking out the window deep in thought but hoped out of thought when he heard the two speedsters stirring. He didn't want to miss their faces once they woke up. Rainbow was shifting in her sleep while lying on Sonic's lap. She started to open her eyes and sat up yawning. She wiped the sleep on her eyes to see a smirking Soler looking at her. She looked annoyed at him, "What are you smirking about?" she asked. He giggled a bit, Sleep well princess? Did you enjoy your pillow?" he responded back trying not to laugh. She was about to retort back at him but then looked at what he meant and saw that she was still right next to Sonic. She put two and two together and her face turned red. Soler started to laugh looking at her face, which caused our said pillow to wake up. "What's so funny?" Sonic said yawning. Soler slowed down his laughing, "Did you enjoy your stuffed animal last night?" he said back. Sonic looked confused at that then saw that Rainbow was sitting right next to him and was madly blushing. He put two and two together and he then blushed. Soler couldn't hold it together anymore and burst out laughing in his seat. "Hahaha! Oh man I can't, I can't breath!" he struggled to say. Two speedsters looks at him with glares, "Its not funny hedgehog!" they said in unison, which made them look at each other and turn away blushing even harder. Soler was laughing even harder, "Oh man it only gets better." he said. Pinkie popped over to them and was next to Soler wondering what's so funny. "Hey what's so funny? I wanna know I wanna know I wanna knowww." She pleaded. Soler stopped laughing and looked at her smiling, "Sorry pink its more of an inside joke." he said. She pouted a bit from this but Soler put an arm around her, "But look the next time something really funny happens you'll be first person I tell okay?" He said. She brightened up from hearing this, "Do you pinkie promise?" He looked confused, "Pinkie promise?" he questioned. "Yes silly it goes like this. I cross my heart and hope to fly, stick a cupcake in my eye." she finished and did all the motions. He shrugged and agreed, "I cross my heart and hope to fly, stick a cupcake in my eye." Soler copied. She then got close in his face, "And remember never and I mean never break a pinky promise." she said seriously as she moved slowly away from his face. This left him highly confused on what happened. The rest of the ride was quick as they made it to Appeloosa by midday. As they got off the train Sonic sped off the train first and started running around the place happy to be off the train. The rest of the group. walked off the train to the sight. Soler just sighed and shook his head, "Come on man it wasn't that bad." he said. Sonic came to a stop in front of him, "It was torture." Sonic replied, Soler just rolled his eyes. Twilight walked up to the two, "Come on we gotta find those friends of yours." she said to the two, "Well then lead the way princess." Soler said bowing to her. She smirked and rolled her eyes as she lead on. Appeloosa reminded the two hedgehogs of a town you would see out of an old western movie. The town had one main road with branching roads going from it. They could see that not only were ponies living there but also buffalo where living there. Everyone seems to be happy to. "Nice little town." Sonic said, "But why is place called Appeloosa?" He questioned. "Well that's because of the apple orchard located here partner." They heard a voice say. They turned to see a golden yellow stallion wearing a vest and cowboy hat walk up to them. "Cousin Braeburn!" Applejack said excitedly as she ran up to him and gave him a hug. "Well howdy there cousin wasn't expecting you and your friends to be stopping by." he said and looked at Sonic and Soler, "Um cousin who are your new friends?" he said looking at Sonic and Soler. "Well the blue ones name is Sonic and the others ones name is Soler. There not from this place and are looking for there friends. By the way have you seen a red echidna or yellow fox?" she finished. He thought on it for a second "Well actually yes I have these two strange creatures appeared around these parts a while ago." he said Sonic and Soler looked relieved, "Where are they?" Soler asked. "Well sheriff took them down to the jailhouse to question them. They didn't put up a fight and said only 'that they are only waiting on their friends. Which I'm guessing are you two?" he finished looking at the two hedgehogs. They nodded, "Cousin do you think you can take us to them?" Applejack asked. "Well sure I can just follow me." he said and led them to the jailhouse. Once there were outside they could hear someone shouting, "Like we've been telling you were not trying to take any of your DANG APPLES!" they heard the voice shout. Sonic and Soler smiled know exactly what hothead said that and dashed into the jailhouse. Once they entered the jailhouse they could see Knuckles steaming sitting on the bed and Tails just shaking his head. The sheriff was on the ground getting frightened from Knuckles sudden out burst. Sonic and Soler smiled seeing there friends, "Man we leave you two for just a day and you're already behind bars." Sonic said, "Yeah I know what you mean blue, I mean I would expect it from knucklehead but not Tails." Soler chimed in. Tails and Knuckles looked up ran to the bars smiling at their friends, "Sonic, Soler I'm so glad to see you guys." Tail said. "Yeah it's about time you two got here." Knuckles added. The two hedgehogs ran up to the bars also, "Yeah well we wanted to take in the sights a but before coming to get you two." Soler said slyly. He liked down at the sheriff and got the keys, "You don't mind if we take these guys out of your hands do you?" Soler asked he shook his head, "Thanks." He continued to let them out once they were let out Tails gave sonic a hug and Knuckles fist bumped Soler. "So where are we?" Tails asked the two, "Well we'll explain once we get back to the castle." Sonic said. Tails and Knuckles looked confused, "Castle? What castle?" Knuckles asked. "Well unlike you two we've been making friends since we got here instead of getting locked up. By the way why didn't you just break the bars Knuckles I know you could've with your strength." Soler said. "Well did you think I was going to force my way out and have whatever forces come here?" Knuckles said back. "Good thinking knucklehead now your using your noggin." Sonic replied. The group walked outside back to the group of ponies eating on them. "So he does have two tails." Fluttershy said. Tails looked at his tails and nodded, "Yep had em my whole life." he said. "So guys these are our new friends." Soler started, "The lavender one is princess Twilight Sparkle, the rainbow manned one is Rainbow Dash, the white unicorn is Rarity, the one with a cowboy hat is Applejack, the pink one is Pinkie Pie, and the one who asked about your tails, Tails is Fluttershy. Girls these are our friends Knuckles and Tails." Soler finished. They all greeted each other, "Okay so what's this about a castle." Knuckles asked. "Oh you must mean my castle. Yes like I said to Sonic and Soler you two are welcomed to stay there until you find a way back to your home." Twilight said. "Well thanks Twilight." Tails said. "Well now that greetings are out the way lets get back to train to head home." Rainbow said. When Sonic heard the word train and panicked, "No anything but the train again. I can't go through that again." he said shaking a bit. Soler sighed and placed a hand on his shoulder, "Listen man I know its boring ride but hey man we can endure it one more time." she said trying to reassure him. "No man not again not this time. I'll meet you guys back at the castle. Later." Sonic said and boomed off. Soler sighed, "Well meet you guys back at the castle. Sonic get back here!" he said before seeing off after the hedgehog.

That's chapter 7. Can't believe I've made seven chapters already and people are liking this I'm for honored. I've gotten some more reviews and like I said I'm glad for them but to one of them to answer why I had them both going so slow in the chase and when Soler was in the forest was because in the forest it was dense enough that it prevented Soler from getting to much speed plus he didn't know the terrain like Rainbow did so she caught up pretty easily to him, and in the castle they were trying to find there way out so they were only going a moderate speed to pay attention to where they were going. I do know that they both can go faster then the speed of sound and will have them later in the story but thanks for pointing that out bro I'll have to add some speed scenes later on. Well that's all for now Solerwolf OUT!

Yeah well. I don't know what to say so read

Chapter 8: A Royal Welcome

(P.O.V. none, Twilights Castle)

The two hedgehogs sat on the stairs that lead into Twilights castle bored out of their minds. Soler looked at Sonic, "See I told you we should've just got back on the train but no you had to go all stir crazy and decide to run back here instead. Now we got to wait on them to get here." He huffed at him. "Well I was not going back on that slow train ride back it was torture." Sonic pleaded. Soler looked at him irritated, "No it wasn't you just can't sit still long enough to enjoy the ride like everyone else." "Well excuse me for wanting to go fast I mean speed is the thing I do best." Sonic said back. Soler just sighed, "So how much longer until they get here?" Sonic asked him, "Well considering that it only took us about an hour and a half to get back here, since you wanted to go get back as fast as possible, I say they will get here by tomorrow afternoon." Soler finished, Sonic looked dumbfounded, "Really but that's such a long time." He complained. "Well you should've run off and we could be relaxing with the rest if them. " Soler said plainly. The two sat there in silence for a while longer. "So what do you want to do?" Sonic asked. Soler thought on the question. What could they do to pass the time and not cause trouble? He was pondering the question for a while until Spike came bursting out of the castle. The two hedgehogs turned back to look at him, "What the rush Spike? Someone in danger?" Sonic asked. Spike ran down to the two breathing hard. "Iâ€¦gotâ€¦aâ€¦letterâ€¦" he started. The two must've guessed he was near the back of the castle since he was out of breath. "Take your time Spike were not going anywhere. You got a letter from who?" Soler said to him. Spike caught his breath for a second and continued, "A letter from Princess Celestia she wants to meet you two and your friends. As soon as possible." He finished. Sonic and Soler looked at each other with confused looks, "Why does she want to meet us?" Sonic asked, "Well I'm guessing so she can ask you guys some questions and meet you." Spike responded. He took a look around and saw that they were the only two present, "Where are the others?" he asked. Soler gave Sonic an annoyed look to which he just scratched his head in embarrassment, "Well blue boy here was going stir crazy and had to run back here instead of taking the train like everyone else." Soler finished. "Well you know I hate sitting still for too long and the train ride there was brutal." Sonic complained, Soler just sighed and shook his head, "Whatever blue but what are we going to do about meeting the princess we can't just wait for the others they most likely wont be here till tomorrow." Soler exclaimed. The group thought on the predicament for a moment. Sonic then stood up grabbing the attention of the others, "Well there's only one thing to do." He started the Soler and Spike looked at each other in unified confusion. He smirked and looked at them, "Were just going to have to go and meet her." He said coolly. Spike looked at him confused, "But what about the others she wants to see them two? We should wait for them." Spike said. Soler's face was still confused for a second but then he smirked with Sonic and stood up, "Yeah we probably should wait for the others but that's not particularly our style ya know?" Soler said as he and Sonic walked down the steps and to the train station. Spike followed them wondering what they were planning. "What do you guys mean not your style it would be best to wait." Spike pleaded but the two kept there pace to the station. Sonic pulled out his communicator and contacted Tails, "Tails come in bud." They could hear Tail voice come in, "I'm here Sonic what's up?" before he could say anything they heard a very angry Knuckles shout at him, "WHATS YOUR PROBLEM HEADGEHOG LEAVING US LIKE THAT! WHEN I GET MY HANDS ON YOU TWO YOUR DEAD!" He had to move the mic away from his ear, "Glad to see you too buddy. Now Tails like I was saying Soler and I are going to have an audience with the princess and should be back by the time you get here ok?" Sonic said. Then Twilight came in on the mic, "What why are you two going to meet the princess? And without us? Just wait until we get there so we can all go there together." She pleaded. Soler spoke in the mic next, "Well Twi we would but that not our style and plus you guys would take to long to get here so were going to just solo this mission okay. Don't worry I'll make sure Sonic behaves. " he said slyly. Sonic rolled his eyes, "Okay guys well talk to you guys when we see you tomorrow okay. Later." Sonic finished and closed his communicator. As they made it to the station they looked around for a castle, "So Spike where is it that the princess stay. I don't see a castle anywhere?" Soler said. "Well the princess stays in Canterlot it's a huge city on the side of a mountain you can se it from here a little bit." Spike finished as he pointed to the city in the distance. Soler and Sonic looked at the city and then began to stretch. "So how long do you think it will take us to get there?" Sonic asked Soler, "Well it should take about and hour or so. It looks like a day ride on the train so if we push it we should be able to get there in about an hour.' He responded. Spike was confused, "Don't tell me you guys are planning on running there and get there in an hour? Rainbow Dash is the fastest flyer and even it would take her at least a have day of full flying to get there." Spike said. Both hedgehogs smirked at the little dragon, "Well were faster then RD." Soler said. "Well see you later Spike." Before Spike could respond both hedgehog boomed out of the station towards Canterlot. He was left in amazement at the speed that the two hold.

(P.O.V. none, The Train)

Tails closed the communicator as he sighed from the two hedgehogs. "What are those two thinking going to meet the princess without the rest of us?" Rainbow said to the rest of them. Knuckles huffed and crossed his arms, "Well that's just those two are, even though Soler has more sense than Sonic does at times he tends to just follow him in his antics." Knuckles said, "Yeah Soler might not show it he looks up to Sonic in ways on how care free he can be and still do the right thing most of the time." Tails chimed in. The girls gave each other worried looks, "Well we trust you Tails and Knuckles." Fluttershy said softly. "Well I don't know about yawl but I think it was mighty rude of them to just leave their friends like that without a warning. I mean they only just got in this world and they ditched them so fast." Applejack said. Knuckles sighed, "Yeah well were used to it. I mean they are two of the fastest things a live so being left in the dust is common. We don't hold it against them." Knuckles finished. Rainbow's ears perked when she heard him say they were the fastest, "I'm sorry Knuckles but I think you got it confused, I'm the fastest there is." She said proudly. Knuckles and Tails looked at each other and laughed a bit. Rainbow looked mad that they laughed at her skills, "What's so funny I am the fastest." Rainbow protested now even the other ponies were wondering why they were laughing. Tails spoke as his laughter died down, "Were sorry Rainbow we don't meant any disrespect by it but I don't think theirs anybody as fast as those two." He said. The others looked at the two in confusion, "Sorry Tails but Rainbow is the fastest flyer in Equestria. No pony can go as fast as her." Twilight said, "Yeah well Sonic and Soler aren't ponies their hedgehogs and they haven't lost to anyone in a race besides if they were racing each other." Knuckles said. Rainbow didn't look convinced but before she could say anything back Pinke chimed in, "Well I'm sure that Soler and Sonic are really really fast but our Dashie is the only one who can pull off a Sonic Rainboom. Can Sonic or Soler do that." Pinke finished trying to defend Dash. Rainbow smirked knowing that no one can even come close to pulling off a rainboom. Tails quickly pondered on it for a second before answering, "So this sonic rainboom I'm guessing is caused by you breaking the sound barrier and I guess it creates some sorta flash of light that resembles a rainbow?" Tails said. The girls nodded in agreement. Tails slightly laughed, "Well Sonic and Soler both break the sound barrier several times when they run, and they don't have to be pushing themselves to do it. Even when they just go on a simple run they tend to break it." Tails said. The girls were in disbelief that those two hedgehogs were that fast. Rainbow took it the hardest seeing as she might not be the fastest. "I'm sorry Tails darling but that doesn't sound possible to just break the sound barrier with such ease." Rarity said. "Well that's how it is with those two they tend to do the impossible." Knuckles said. The girls didn't know how to respond, Tails saw this and spoke up, "Look girls were not trying to cause problems or start any with this topic. I'm sure Rainbow is fast in her own right but there isn't anything or anyone we've seen be able to match their speed besides a few exceptions." Fluttershy spoke up next, "We know Tails and were sorry if it seems like acting hostile but it's just hard to believe that there's someone faster than Rainbow." She finished. Tails nodded in agreement, "I understand Fluttershy." He said. The group got a bit quiet for the next few hours of the ride. While the group was quiet Rainbow was thinking in her head, "I'm going to have to test those two's speed for myself. No way those two are that fast."

(P.O.V. Sonic & Soler, Canterlot)

The two hedgehogs made it to Canterlot in just under an hour like Soler said. The two walked through the gates and admired the look of the city. The place looked like the top ponies lived here since all of the buildings looked like they were worth all of ponyville. The streets were clean and bright as if they were constantly being cleaned and the ponies they saw walking around matched the style of the area. "Hmm guessing only the well of citizens live here." Sonic said. Soler only nodded while admiring the architecture of the place. "You know I don't think that I've ever seen architecture quite like this before." Soler pointed out, Sonic more or less wasn't paying attention to that but to the different smells. "Oh man I don't think I've ever smelled foods like this before." He said as he touched his stomach, "And I'm so hungry." Soler just smirked and put his arm around him, "Hey look man I'm sure when we meet the princess she'll give us some grub." Soler confided to him. This made the blue hedgehog brighten up thinking of the food, "Okay then what are we waiting for let's go see the princess." Sonic said as he was about to dash off but Soler caught him. "Dude we should walk there and not cause too much of a scene." He said. Sonic stopped running and realized that the citizens were looking at the two in curiosity wondering what they were and where they came from. "Yeah your right." He agreed. Soler let go of Sonic and took a brief look around to spot the castle. The two hedgehogs didn't notice but a white stallion in gold armor had walked up to them. "Excuse me sirs but the princess has told us of your arrival and to bring you to her as soon as you arrived. So please follow me." The stallion finished. The two looked at each other and followed him to the castle. The two walked through the main doors of the massive castle impressed by how much more bigger this place was compared to Twilight's castle. The stallion stopped in front of two massive doors that reached from the floor to the ceiling. "This is where I leave you two the princess will be seeing you in there so enter when ready." He said and walked off leaving the two alone in front of the doors. "Huh I wonder how long it took them to make this place." Soler said looking around, "It must've cost a fortune too." he said. Sonic chimed in, "I know what you mean man I mean look at these rugs they had to of been hoof made." He mocked. Soler just gave him an annoyed look, "There's no need to be sarcastic I'm just admiring the castle." Soler said. Sonic just laughed a bit, "I know man. I know how you're in to that stuff I just like to tease." He said, "Now come on lets go meet royalty." Sonic started towards the doors but Soler stopped him. "What the matter?" He asked looking back at him. "Are you going to be on your best behavior?" Soler said. Sonic looked appalled at the question, "Dude you know I'm only on my best behavior." He said. Soler didn't look convinced, "Remember when we had to meet the king of that far off land back on Mobius and because he dissed chili dogs you went on a rant about how good they are and why it was disrespectful to say that they weren't good when it was his opinion." Soler said. "Hey chili dogs are the best things that were ever created and it was disrespectful to talk down about them. I mean someone had to defend them." Sonic tried to retort back. Soler just sighed, "Look just stay cool which I know you know how to do okay?" Sonic just nodded and opened the doors to the throne room. The throne room was so massive that you could fit all the citizens of Canterlot and Ponyville in it and still have room for more. "Man these guys sure do go above and beyond." Sonic said as they walked to the thrones. As they walked the long walk to them they noticed that there was stained glass windows that was telling some sort of story. Soler stopped to look at them, which caused Sonic to also. "What is it Soler?" he asked. "Look at the window don't those ponies look like Twilight and her friends." He asked. Sonic took a look at the windows and was shocked that he was right that it did look like Twilight and her friends. "Yeah but why would they be on windows in a castle?" He asked. "Well that would be because Princess Twilight and her friends have protected this world countless times and these are how we remember their acts of heroism." A majestic voice said. The two hedgehogs looked at each other, "I didn't say that." "Neither did I.?" they said to each other. The voice giggled, "I'm the one who said that." The two looked behind them to see the most magnificent pony they have ever seen. Her coat was a pure white and her mane and tail flowed with an assortment of colors. She had wings and a horn much like Twilight did but she looked way older than anybody else they've seen like as if she's been around for a very long time but retained her youth. She had a sun type of mark on her flank also. When the two looked at her she radiated wisdom, respect, kindness and much more. She looked at the two gawking hedgehogs and giggled, "I'm guessing this is the first time you two have seen an alicorn like me." The two nodded. This made her giggle again, "Well my name is Princess Celestia and I welcome you to Equestria."

_Chapter 8 done. I like how the story is going so far and I'll admit I'm taking my time with it trying not to just jump into the action or drama ya know. I'm going to be changing up the rate I upload like I got a review a while I do post often which doesn't give people time to read the story or might overwhelm them so when I see that enough people have read the latest chapter I'll upload the next. Oh also Im in need of some ideas about some protagonists I can add in so PM me with an idea or just leave it and I will give you credit if I use it. So that's it Solerwolf OUT! _

9. Chapter 9

Lets see what I can do.

_Chapter 9: Princess of the Night _

(P.O.V. none, Celestia's Castle)

As our two hedgehogs were gawking at the princess Soler snapped out of his gaze because he remembered something that was on his mind, "So you guys are called Alicorns?" He asked her. She simply nodded her head in agreement, "I could've sworn you guys would be called pegacorn or something but alicorn has a better ring to it." Soler said. Celestia giggled at the hedgehogs remark, "Well I'm glad you like it. Now can I get the names of my new visitors?" She asked them sweetly. Soler was about to respond but then noticed that Sonic was still gawking and nudged him out of it. Sonic noticed what he was doing and smiled sheepishly, "Sorry but my name is Sonic the Hedgehog your majesty." He said while bowing. "And I'm Soler the hedgehog your grace." Soler said while also bowing to her. Celestia bowed her head to them also as a sign of respect, "Well it's a pleasure to make your acquaintance. Now where are the others I know when I sent that letter to Spike I asked for all of you." She asked the two. Soler looked at Sonic with an annoyed face to which he just scratched the back of his head, "Well princess we were with the others a while ago when we went to Appeloosa to get our friends, but someone here was going to go stir crazy riding the train again so he decided to run off back to Ponyville to which I had to follow." Soler finished. Sonic shrunk down a bit, "Well when you put it like that you make it seem like I could've took the train again." He finished, "You could have taken the train again!" Soler shouted at him. "Well it would've been torture to ride it again." Sonic tried to defend himself. Soler sighed, "We apologize princess but the others won't catch up to us probably not till tomorrow or so." Soler finished. She simply smiled, "That's quite alright we can wait for the rest to get here tomorrow. You two are welcomed to stay here in the castle until then and please just call me Celestia." She finished. The way that Celestia presented herself and spook to them gave off a calming effect that sent them at ease. "Thank you princeâ€¦I mean Celestia." Soler said. She smiled, "Now you two are welcome to roam the castle and I'll have a maid show you to your rooms." She said. Before the two could walk off another question popped into his head, "Wait Celestia I have another question." He asked running back to her. "Yes?" "Well when we first entered your world we went into an old forest in a weird forest and it had some tapestries there that had someone that resembled you on them. But It couldn't be you because they looked like they have been there for a very long time and you don't look older than maybe in your early to mid 30's." he finished. This made her giggle some more, "Well I appreciate the complement but yes that is me on those tapestries you saw. I'm a lot older than I appear." She said. This took Soler in slight disbelief that she could be that old but still look so young. Then one last question popped in his head, "Well okay then but one last question also while I saw there I saw that there was another alicorn with you but from the damage of the castle it looked like you two had a falling out so what happened to her?" he asked. Celestias smile waivered for a moment, which gave Soler the idea that this was a touchy subject, "Hey Celestia you don't have to tell me if it's to personal." Soler said. She smiled a bit from his concern, "Its quite alright Soler but the other alicorn you saw was my sister Luna and yes we did have a falling out if you would call it and I had to banish her to the moon for a long time." She started. Even this caught Sonics attention as they both wondered how something like that could happen in a peaceful place like this, "What happened to her?" Sonic asked. Celestia brightened up; "Well thanks to Twilight and her friends they brought her back to me." She said. The two hedgehogs looked at each other thinking that this place is a little more complex than they thought. "Well thank you Celestia for answering my questions well be going to our rooms." Soler said. Celestia smiled "It's a pleasure I'll be happy to answer more questions anytime you have them and please enjoy your stay at the castle." She said as she walked off. Then Sonic had a very important question, "Oh Celestia do you have anything to eat?" he asked. Later that evening the two hedgehogs were walking the castle looking at all it had. The two had already been in the library, which was very massive, they've seen the gardens and they've also been near the top of the castle out on the balcony. "Man this castle is way bigger than I thought." Sonic said with his arms behind his head. "Yeah same here I mean it looked big on the outside but inside it's way more bigger than it looks. These guys really know how to make buildings." Soler pointed out. The two made it to another balcony as the sun was starting to set. They got a beautiful view of all of Canterlot and they could see what looked like Ponyville in the distant. The feel of the wind blowing through their quills gave them a calming effect. "You know even though I love going fast and action its nice to be able to take some time to just slow down and enjoy the scenery ya know?" Sonic said. Soler gave him the most annoyed look he could give. Sonic looked confused, "What did I say something wrong?" he asked. Soler only sighed and shook is head, "Nothing man lets just get to sleep im sure well have to do a lot of explaining in the morning." Soler said and the two made there way to their rooms as night began to fall.

(P.O.V. Soler)

It was in the middle of the night and Soler had woken up from a strange dream. "Man dreams are weird." Soler said to himself. He looked out his window to see the moon shining bright. He stretched and put his shoes on as he got up. "Whelp might as well go meditate for a while." He said and walked out of his room into the empty halls. He roamed the halls a bit looking for a place to meditate. He then saw that there was a mini garden inside an area of the castle. He walked out onto the grass and was amazed that this place seems like it's in the center of the castle. The place also had a perfect view of the moon from here too. There was nothing covering the area from the top so he got a full view of the moon. He took in a deep breath and exhaled out. "This place is perfect." He said and sat down. He crossed his legs and closed his eyes as he was trying to focus on the chaos or any energy around him. His body became completely still as he focused. He could feel the chaos emerald that was with him energy but also he could vaguely feel the energies of the other emeralds but they were very far away. As he was meditating he also started to feel another type of energy that wasn't from the chaos emeralds. It felt familiar like he felt it before then he remembered the feeling it was the same on he felt fight before he and the those got teleported into this world but the energy felt like it was coming from everywhere around him. The weird thing about the energy was that he couldn't feel any sort of malicious energy from it felt peaceful much like the land does. He opened his eyes and looked up to the moon. "Man Luna I wish you could be here to experience this." He said aloud. "Well I am here." He heard a voice say. He jumped and turned around to see who said it. He turned to see an alicorn but smaller than Celestia and her coat color was a dark midnight type color. Her mane and tail flowed continuously like Celestia's does but hers looked like the night sky covered with stars. And her eyes were a teal color that seemed to shine in the moonlight. She also had a crescent moon shaped mark on her flank. She caught Soler off guard and to be honest he slightly blushed. She looked at him in curiosity, "Well I know I haven't seen anything like you before and you seem to know my name while don't know yours. So would the prattle thy name." she asked. Soler was still a little stricken by her and his blush hadn't gone away. Luna noticed his blush and smiled, "I take it you are enjoying the view." She asked slyly. That comment seemed to break him of his trance; "Hey I'm the one who makes flirty jokes around here." Soler said. That's seemed to make Luna smile, "Well now I'm not the one blushing now aren't I?" she asked. Soler noticed that now he was blushing and sighed, "Well you got me there. Well you asked me my name which Is Soler the hedgehog." He said as he bowed to her. Luna bowed back, "Well it appears you already know my name which if I may ask how it is you know my name?" she asked. He thought about his Luna and decided it wasn't time to start reveling his past, "Well I heard it from Celestia when she was talking with you." He responded. This seemed to satisfy Luna and she smiled. Soler seeing this made him blush again to which he noticed and looked away, "What is wrong with me tonight?" He thought with himself. "So what bring a princess like you out on a night like this." He asked. She giggled a bit, "Well why don't I let you guess why." She asked. Soler had a questioning look on his face but played along. "Hmm okay you like the night air." She nodded, "Yes I do but that's not why I'm out. Try again." Soler thought, "Hmm you like the way the moon shines at night." Soler said. She nodded again, "Right again but wrong again also. I'll give thee one more try." She said. Soler thought on it once more before answering, "You like to sneak up on un-expecting hedgehogs and scare the life out of them?" Soler said. This made her laugh which made him laugh also. "Well no but it was funny to see you startled." She admitted. "Well then why are you out here Luna?" he asked. "Well I'm the princess of the night so tend to be up around this time. I raise and lower the moon every night and tend to things that happen during the night." She said. Hearing this blew Soler mind a bit thinking that someone raised and lowered the moon. All the science in his head seemed to blow away at the statement. Luna saw his face, which made her laugh. "What is it that surprising that I raise and lower the moon?" she asked. He snapped out of it, "Well I mean in my world the way the moon rises is by our plant rotating on its axis. And by how bright the moon is here the only way it would be that bright in my world is by the suns rays reflecting off it and to get a full moon it only happens like once or twice a month but here its every night." He finished. Luna was intrigued by the way the moon worked in Soler's world, "Well I'm sorry to disappoint but I raise the moon and Celestia raises the sun, and we do this with our magic." She finished. When he heard the word magic it didn't catch him by as much surprise as Luna thought it was going to, "Well that seem to catch you by as much surprise as I thought it would. Do you have magic in your world?" she asked. He thought on how to answer, "Well we do have some people that can use magic but not strong enough to raise the moon or the Sun." he answered. The two were in silence for a little while. "Well do you mind if I sit next to you and enjoy the night?" She asked him. This caught him by surprise but he nodded and scooted over for her to lie down next to him. The two were looking up at the moon enjoying the night in silence. Soler caught a look at her as she looked at the moon and was stunned. "Wow the way that the moon's light just reflects off her eyes makes them shine bright in the night. And her flowing mane that looks like the night only adds to her beauty!" he stopped his thoughts and shook his head, "What are you doing hedgehog you shouldn't be having those thoughts." He thought to himself. What he didn't notice was that while he was debating in his head Luna had been looking at him. She could see the blush on his face as he was thinking. This made her smile for some reason that she couldn't think of. "Well Soler as much as I enjoyed our time together I must get going. Celestia will be getting up to raise the sun in a while and it will be time for me to get to bed which I advise you to do too." She said as she stood. Soler snapped out of his thoughts and stood up too, "Well it was nice meeting you Princess Luna hopefully we will meet again. And maybe enjoy another peaceful night together." He finished immediately realizing what he said and face palmed himself. This made Luna giggle, "Well I would love to enjoy another night with you Soler hedgehog." "Please Princess you can just call me Soler." He instead. She nodded, "And you may just call me Luna then." She said as she unfolded her wings and took off into the night. Soler stood there watching her leave just thinking, "Man what's gotten in to me that's the first time I've acted like that since!" He shook his head, "No keep your head straight hedgehog no repeats." He thought to himself before he walked back to his room for some sleep.

Chapter 9 in the bag! To be honest even I didn't think this chapter would turn out like this but it felt so natural to write compared to what I was going to write I had to keep going ya know. Thanks to all those who read new and old comers alike, whelp this is Solerwolf OUT!

10. Chapter 10

Whelp its official! I'm in love with the story!

Chapter 10: Off to Manehattan

(P.O.V. none, Celestias Castle)

Soler yawned as he was toying with his breakfast at the large table. Sonic has next to him happily enjoying his meal of pancakes. Sonic looked over at Soler to see the tiredness in his eyes and how he seemed to be thinking about something. "Something on your mind." Sonic said mouthful of pancakes. Soler looked at him, "Swallow before you speak please and nothing is wrong just had a long night is all." He replied. Sonic swallowed, "Well why did you have a long night?" he asked him. Soler remembered the night he had with the princess of the night. He remembered their conversation and the way that she looked in the moonlight. He shook his head, "Stop that hedgehog." He said. Sonic looked confused, "Stop what man? I haven't done anything." Sonic said. Soler realized that he said that aloud and looked at Sonic, "Oh nothing man just thinking about something and had to shout it out to the world ya know?" he replied smiling slyly. Sonic squinted his eyes looking at him suspicion like he was trying to figure out what was really going on. Soler sweated a bit hoping that he wouldn't figure anything out. Sonic continued to stare then he asked a question in a serious tone, "Soler." "Yeah?" he replied gulping, "I have one more question. Are you going to finish your pancakes?" Sonic asked. Soler's eye twitched, "Sure man go ahead." He said and scooted his plate to him to which he gladly started to eat. "It amazes me on how at times you can be the hero anyone will look up to but still act like a child at times." Soler said to him. Sonic just continued to eat his food happily, "I'm one of a kind." He said mouth full. Soler smirked, "Swallow man and yes, yes you are." Sonic swallowed and gave his award-winning smile at him. Just then Celestia came into the dining room. She smiled as she saw the two hedgehogs eating, "Good morning you two. Sleep well?" She asked them as she took a seat at the top of the table. The two looked at her and smiled back, "Yeah I slept pretty good Celestia but I don't know about Soler here." Sonic said poking Soler. This caught her attention, "Why didn't you sleep well Soler? Did you have a bad dream?" she asked with a hint of concern in her voice. Soler gave Sonic a glare then looked back at Celestia, "No princess didn't have a bad dream I just had a long night is all. Nothing to worry about I assure you." He responded with a smile. Celestia looked at him and could see a hint of tiredness in his eyes but decided to let it go. "Okay Soler I trust your judgment." She responded. Soler let out a sigh of relief. Celestia eat her breakfast as was about to leave until she remembered something to tell them, "Oh Soler, Sonic the other will be here soon so could you please meet in in the throne room once your done eating." She said as she left the room Sonic and Soler looked at each other, "Whelp better get prepared then." Soler said drinking the last of his juice. Sonic sighed, "Yeah your right about that." The two finished their breakfast and made their way to the throne room dreading each step.

(P.O.V. none, Throne Room)

Soler and Sonic were sitting at the foot of the throne while Celestia was signing some papers. Sonic watched her as she did this and noticed that the papers were levitating and her horn was lit up also. "Hey Celestia are you using psychokinesis?" He asked her. She stopped from what she was doing and gave him a questioning look, "What is that?" she asked. Soler chimed in, "It's where you can move objects with your mind and such." He answered. She nodded, "Well Sonic I'm not using that technique you are speaking of I'm just using my magic to lift the papers." She responded. Sonic nodded and went back to laying of the steps until he sat back up realizing what she said, "What you can use magic?" He asked in disbelief. She nodded and smiled, "Yes all unicorns can use magic in this world." She responded as she went back to her work. Sonic thought about it for a second then shrugged and went back to laying down, "That's kinda cool you guys can use magic." He said. Soler sighed and sat up, "Shouldn't they be here by now it's almost mid morning." He said standing up. "Yeah it has been awhile. I wonder what's taking them so long?" Sonic said standing up also. Celestia was still doing her work as answered, "I'm sure they almost here just be patient my little hedgehogs." Soler and Sonic looked at each other then back at her, "My little hedgehog?" they said together. She stopped and realized what she said, "I'm sorry I always call my subjects "my little ponies" to calm them it's a habit." She said returning to her work. He two shrugged it off, "Well we should be able to go for a quick run before they get here." Sonic said stretching, "Yeah I'm sure we could." Soler responded stretching also. "Yeah plus we were still tied aren't we?"

Sonic said with a smirk, "This could be our tie breaker." Soler smirked too, "Your on hedgehog." Before either two could take a step the main doors to the throne room opened up and in walked in the rest of their friends. He two put on a smile, "Hey guys glad to see you made it her..." Knuckles charging up to the two hedgehogs fuming cut off Sonic. "Well I know I'm going to regret this but. Hey Knux you're looking redder than normal. You using a new moisturizer for your fur?" Soler asked. Knuckles looked like he was going to explode Celestia noticed this and instinctively used her magic to make a pair of earmuffs cover her ears. "YOU TWO FULL HEARTED, HALF BRAINED, ONE MINDED, IDIOTIC!" "Charming?" Sonic said. "CHARMING!" Knuckles stopped and gave Sonic a death glare which made him shrivel up. "WHAT MAKES YOU TWO THINK IT WAS ALRIGHT TO JUST LEAVE ALL OF USE BEHIND AND THEN WHEN YOU CONTACT US ITS TO GIVE US A VAGUE DISCRPTION OF WHAT YOU WERE DOING?" He continued both hedgehogs were huddled up together. "WHAT DO YOU TWO HAVE TO SAY?!" Knuckles finished. Neither hedgehog didn't want to reply but Soler spoke up, "You have very pretty eyes." He joked instantly putting a hand over his mouth. Sonic face palmed knowing that his smart mouth had doomed them. Knuckles turned a deeper shade of red as it looked like he was going to explode twice as huge on them than what he did before. He was just about to until he felt a hoof on his shoulder to which he turned around to see Applejack, "Well I know that these two hedgehogs deserve a good talking too but maybe we can settle the rest back at home partner?" She asked. Soler and Sonic looked at each other thinking he was going to shout at her but he didn't he actually started to calm down. Knuckles looked into her eyes and for some reason they had a calming effect the way here eyes didn't waiver made him feel like he could just trust her with everything. He let out a deep sigh, "Yeah your right we can deal with them later." He said. She smiled, "Thanks partner." Sonic and Soler sighed in relief glad that Applejack had saved them. "Don't think this is over you two, Just because she calmed mw down now doesn't mean your off the hook." Knuckles said. The two gulped. An hour or two had passed as the group was explained to the princess all of what happened. "So that light we saw in the sky a few days ago was because you had caused this chaos control?" Celestia asked. Soler nodded, "Yeah It seems like that must be the case since the two both happened at the same time." He responded. Applejack spoke up, "But from the way that you fellers were describing it, it shouldn't have been that bright a light." She said, "My cousin Breaburn said they could see that light as bright as day in Appeloosa. " "Just like here in Canterlot." Celestia said. Soler thought about the situation, "Hmm Tails do you have anything from listening in?" He asked him. Tails seemed to be having the same face as him thinking hard, "Well if the light that was seen was as bright as they saw and could be seen from her to Appeloosa then It might be a probability that the chaos control took more than just us here." He concluded. Sonic let out a deep annoyed sigh which cause the other to look at him, "What's wrong darling if that chaos control thing took more than you boys here than that just mean more of your friends could be here too." Rarity said. Sonic just shook his head, "Yeah I know that but that also could mean that a certain egg-head could've been brought her also." He said irritated. Rainbow spoke up this time, "An egghead what do you mean by that?" she asked. "He means Eggman." Knuckles said with his arms crossed. All the girls looked confused even the princess, "Who is Eggman?" Twilight asked. "He's an evil genius who want to conquer plants and build his Eggman Empire." Tail said. "Well I'm sure it a silly name such as Eggman he can't be that bad." Pinke said. "Sorry Pinke but this is one guy you don't want to mess with. We stop him on almost a daily basis back in our world from turning others into robots." Soler said. They looked shocked from this, "He even does this to animals?" Fluttershy asked. Soler looked at her, "Especially animals Flutters. He uses them as a power source for his robots so that they move with more of a conscience when they fight." He responded. She looked hurt to hear this looked like she was about to cry until she buried her face into Tails. This caught him by surprise but accepted it and held her to calm her. Sonic hated seeing that this is what Eggman can cause he walked in front of the princess all of his coolness gone and switched with a sudden seriousness, "Princess Celestia we need to make sure that if Eggman is here that he doesn't get any of the chaos emeralds. He can cause a lot of harm if he gets his hands on them." Sonic said. Rainbow noticed how his whole attitude had changed and he looked more like a hero than from when she first met him. "I won't let him cause harm to any of your people princess I promise you." He said as he dropped down on one knee and bowed his head. "You have my word." He said the other watched him in surprise by how serious he gotten besides Soler, Tails, and Knuckles. Soler followed his lead and stepped up next to him and dropped to one knee, "You have my word too Princess." He said Knuckles and Tails followed them and followed their lead also, "You have our word too Princess." They said. Everyone looked at the group in awe on how serious they were with their promise. Celestia stood from her throne and walked in front of the bowing group, "Rise my brave visitors." They rose to attention, "I can see that your wills aren't staggering, your minds are set, and your hearts are pure. I give you this task to collect the chaos emeralds and make sure that they don't fall into the wrong hands." The four bowed, "We won't let you down." They said in unison. Celestia smiled, "I know you won't especially with Twilight Sparkle and her friends help I'm sure you won't fail." She finished the mane 6 looked to attention, "You can count on us princess." Twilight said. Celestia smiled looking at the group before her. "Well you are dismissed. If I find any information or find out anything out of the ordinary I will send out a letter immediately." The group nodded and left the Princess. As they were exiting the door Celestia called Soler back for a moment, "Oh Soler could you come back for a moment I have a message for you." She said Soler walked back to her as the group left, "Yes Princess?" He asked. Celestia levitated a letter to him; it had a seal that closed it that looked like a crescent moon. "What's this?" he asked. Celestia smirked, "My sister wanted me to give this to you before you left. She said something that she enjoyed your evening together and will be looking forward to another one." She said. Soler blushed from hearing this. Celestia giggled from seeing his face, "She told me you would do that once you got the message." Celestia said. Soler slightly fumed and turned to leave. As he walked out the throne room he spoke under his breath, "Gosh dang it Luna."

(P.O.V. Soler & Sonic, Ponyville Park)

A few days had passed since they last spoke to Celestia and Soler and Sonic were relaxing in the park. Soler was lying up on a tree branch while Sonic was lying on the trunk. Sonic yawned, "Hey Soler do you ever think that since we got here that we've been relaxing a lot?" he asked. Soler thought about his question, "Nah man your just over thinking things were like twice as lazy as this back home." Soler responded. Sonic pondered on his response and agreed. They went back to silence enjoying the day, "Hey were Tails and Knuckles?" Soler asked. "Well I know that Knuckles is at AJ's farm helping with them collecting apples and I think Tails is over at Fluttershy's helping with her animals." He responded. Soler thought on it, "Those two have been acting kinda out of character since we arrived here. Almost as if there's some sort of outside force changing how they act to please the context of how the story is going and to fit in this world ya know." Soler finished. Sonic opened his eyes and looked up at him in confusion, "Dude what are you talking about?" he asked. Before Soler could respond they saw that a unicorn was running towards them with a letter levitating by her horn. The unicorn had a pink coat and her tail and mane was a purple and grayish blue. The mark on her flank (Which we now know is called a cutie mark) was a purple and white star with two glimmering streams coming from it. He stopped in front of the two, "I have a letter from the princess and was told to gather you back at the castle. The others are already there." She said. Soler jumped down from the tree, "You must be Starlight Glimmer, Twilight's student right?" he asked her. She nodded, "How do you know of me?" "Twilight talks about you sometimes. Where have you been these past few days?" he asked. "Well I've been in the Crystal Empire visiting a friend of mine and only just recently came back." She said. Soler nodded and while the two were conversing Sonic was reading the letter. His eyes widened once he had gotten to a certain point and got Soler's attention. "Soler hey listen to this." He said catching the two's attention, "What does it say man?" he asked Sonic. Sonic read pieces of the letter, "Well it starts with a usual greetings and how are we doing blah, blah, blah but here's where it gets good, "_I have gotten reports that some citizens have seen a black creature lately. They say that it doesn't attack anyone but he seems to be searching for something and only stay up high. One other distinguishing feature about this being is it's red eyes as they catch a glimpse of them before it disappears."_ He finished. Soler looked in surprise but started to smile, "So he got brought here to also Tails was right we weren't the only ones that got sent there. Where is it that they have seen him?" Soler asked. Sonic read the letter some more, "She says in some place called Manehattan." They looked at each other with smiles, "Whelp it looks like we're off the Manehattan." Soler said as the two ran off to the castle. Starlight was still standing there in bewilderment, "Who is it that's in Manehattan?"

Chapter 10 complete. To be honest I didn't think that I was going to be doing 10 chapters but I love it. I don't have much to say this time but just I can't wait to see how this story is going to progress and I'm making it! Whelp that's all so Solerwolf OUT! (PS sorry for any errors kind of tired when I posted this)

11. Chapter 11

Yep start of arc 1 equals longer chaptersâ€¦yayâ€¦|

Chapter 11: Manehattan Pt. 1: Hedgehog Hunt

(P.O.V. None Twilights Castle)

The group was sitting around a huge table discussing the new information. Soler and Sonic burst into the room with happy faces', "Have you guys seen Celestia's letter?" Sonic asked smiling. "Yeah I mean we gotta go get him right I mean we all know it is right?" Soler said Tails and Knuckles nodded their heads but the girls didn't, "Well obviously you guys seem to know him but won't inform us on whom he is." Twilight said annoyed. "Yeah I mean I have a feeling that he's some friend of yours but from the information the princess has given us it leaves some blanks. SO you guys need to fill them in." Rainbow said and the other girls nodded. Sonic spoke up, "Oh come on girls a little mystery never hurt anyone am I right? Just let it be a surprise." He said. The girls didn't look pleased from that response. A sweat drop trickled down the side of his head as he smiled sheepishly, "Fine his name is Shadow and he is a friend from our world now can we go to this Manehatten and bring him back here already." Soler spoke up. The girls looked at each other, "His name is Shadow?" AJ asked. "Yes don't worry he's a lot less scarier than he sounds." Soler reassured, "Speak for yourself he's only not scary to you because of you two pass." Sonic said. Soler looked at him; "Well you two would probably have a better relationship if when you both first meet didn't accuse each other of being fakes of the others." He responded back. Sonic glared at him, "Hey you know he started it." Sonic said, "And who continued it? You know it takes two to tango Sonic." "Two to tango my butt he shouldn't have attacked me first." Sonic said back, "If I remember the stories you attacked him first in that forest." Soler responded, Sonic fumed. The two hedgehogs were going back and forth while the others were discussing their next step. "Well besides those two arguing again we really should go and get Shadow. He's very strong and I'm positive he will help us find the rest of the emeralds." Tails said. Fluttershy spoke up, "What about your machine that you have been working on Tails. Once it's finished shouldn't take help us track down those emeralds?" "Well it could but I don't have all the supplies and materials to make it. I love your world but you guys don't have the materials needed to make it. Sorry." He said. "Its okay Tails we understand." Fluttershy said back sweetly. It made him smile that she was so nice. "So Tails machine is out of the question could this Shadow fellow help us find them?" Rarity asked. "Shadow is more attuned with chaos energy than Soler is, so he should be able to help sense at least the directions that there in." Knuckles said. "Well then if he can help we should just go and get him. There's no need to still be discussing this." Rainbow said. She was about to get up when Twilight stopped her, "Wait Rainbow. Even though we know that this Shadow can help we have to worry about that Eggman in cause he shows up." She said. Rainbow sat back down in her seat annoyed, "So what do you suggest we do about him then?" Rainbow asked. Twilight didn't know how to respond so she looked to Tails and Knuckles for help, "Tails, Knuckles?" she asked. Tails spoke up, "Well I've fighting Eggman almost as long as Sonic has so I have a little idea on his patterns." He started, "Eggman is always trying to conquer the world whether it's our world or this one. If the chaos emeralds are involved then his first step will be to find them before we do. He'll probably try and get a foot hold here to by threatening a major city here to draw out the rulers, which is Celestia." He said. "And Luna." Pinke chimed in. Tails looked confused, "Luna who is that?" "Oh well she's just the princess of the night. The same princess that tried to put all of equestrian in eternal darkness so Celestia had to banish her to the moon for a really really really long time, until she came back as nightmare moon and tried to take over again but we all stopped her with the magic of friendship so she's now back to normal Luna." Pinke finished and smiled. One amazed tails that there was another ruler of Equestria and two that Pinke said that all in one breath. "How did you? Never mind." He said. "So it seems like this Eggman will be after the emeralds and possibly try and attack one of the major cities in Equestria." Twilight said, "This could leave us split up and separate our strength." The group pondered on the situation at hand trying there best to figure out what to do. Sonic and Soler were nearing the end of there argument, 'Okay lets just agree to disagree that I totally could eat 50 chill dogs faster than you." Sonic said. Soler was about to rebuttal but stopped, "Okay I'll agree to disagree you do like your chilly dogs. How do you eat so many by the way?" He asked him. Sonic was about the reply but then noticed that everyone had gotten quite and they looked like they were in deep thought. "What are you guys thinking about so deeply?" Soler said breaking them from there thoughts, "Well while you and blue were arguing like kids the adults were trying to figure out what were going to do next." Rainbow said. Sonic looked at Soler, "What's with everyone calling us kids?" "I don't know man its weird." He said back. "We don't know if we should go and just get Shadow or try to split of our forces so that we can be prepared if Eggman shows up." Tails said to them. The two hedgehogs looked at each other and smiled, "Well isn't it obvious we go and get Shadow." Sonic said, "I mean come on Tails I can't believe that you didn't know this?" Soler said also. The group looked at the two confused, "I beg your pardon but we can't just go on a whim to find your friend and leave this place unprotected." Rarity said. "Well be back soon." Sonic said relaxed as ever. "Well what do ya think we should do about the other cites?" Applejack asked them, "Just send a letter to Celestia telling her to be on high alert and have guards ready." Soler said just as coolly as Sonic. "You two know that those guards might not be able to handle Eggmans forces as well as we can." Knuckles said next. "They'll be fine. Well just show up and help out once fighting breaks out. Plus this is all under the assumption that Eggman is here." Soler said. Twilight spoke up, "Well that is try but stillâ€¦" "But nothing lets just go already and worry about the rest once it pops up." Sonic said cutting her off. He turned to walk out the door, "If we stay worrying about the future like this then we won't be able to get things done in the present. I know the treat of Eggman is worrying but I made a promise that I won't let him succeed." He started, then turned and gave them his classic smile and thumbs up, "And I don't break my promises." Soler looked at the others and could see that there faces went from concern to having a sort of courage that what ever happens in the future they can handle it. Soler smirked and looked back at Sonic, "You did it again hedgehog. You gave them the courage and strength to walk forward even though their path isn't clear. No wonder you're the hero of Mobius." Soler thought to himself. "Come guys Sonic is right for once we can't just sit around here let get going to Manehattan. Well worry about Eggman once and if he shows up." Soler said and walked up next to Sonic. The others looked confident and stood up, "He's right I'll send a letter to Celestia before we leave and head off to the station." Twilight said. When Sonic heard the word station he immediately started to sweat bullets. "Well uh maybe it isn't that big of a rush to get there." He said. Soler rolled his eyes don't worry blue I'm sure Rainbow will hold your hand the whole ride there." He said slyly. Sonic and Rainbow both blushed, "You don't have to say it like that." Sonic said, "Yeah its not like he's my boyfriend or anything." She shouted at Soler also. As Soler walked out the Castle he said, "For now." They looked at each other and blushed harder then looked away. This caused every one to laugh at the two and their embarrassment.

_(P.O.V. ? Twilights Castle) _

__He watched as Soler walked out of the castle and stretched staying out of his site. "Hedgehog found." His voice said. "I will finish what I started those years ago. Your life is mine hedgehog. I will take it just like how I took her life from you." The being watched as Soler sat down and opened up a letter. He could see how reading the letter made him flustered. This made the being curious, "So you've found yourself someone new." His laugh was cold and mechanical. "Foolish hedgehog I will take their life from of you before yours so you'll remember that feeling if utter despair as you leave this world." He watched as the Sonic and his friends followed by a bunch of ponies came out the castle. "Enjoy your time for now and enjoy it while you can." He started as he pulled out a chaos emerald, "It will be your last." He said as he teleported away.

(P.O.V. none, Manehattan Station)

The group walked off the train, "Man why do those train rides take so long?" Soler asked stretching. The rest of the group followed, "Well were sorry that our trains can't go as fast you can dearie. We like to take our times going from place to place." Rarity said. Soler rolled his eyes, "Yeah yeah I know but still it took us two days on that train to get here." He said that's when he noticed Sonic hadn't walked off the train, "Where's Sonic?" he asked the other noticed that he wasn't there also. Rainbow sighed; "Wait one sec." she said and flew back onto the train. A moment or so passed and they could hear footsteps coming off the train. Rainbow was holding Sonic's hand as she was guiding him off the train. He looked gray like all of his charisma and moxie was taken out of him. "Come on blue just a few more steps and were off the train." Rainbow said trying to sooth him. "Two daysâ€|two days on that trainâ€|no running, no jumping, no climbingâ€|no anything for two straight days." He said in a distant voice. "The poor dearies that train really does just take everything out of him." Rarity said. "Yeah it doesn't even look like even one of Pinkes homemade pies could snap him out if it." Twilight said. Sonic let go of Rainbows hand and curled up on the ground repeating, "Two days." Everyone was feeling sorry him except Soler who was trying his best not to burst out laughing. Sonic noticed this seemingly all the life came back into him and he got right into Soler's face mad, "I don't see what's so funny hedgehog you were o that train ride too!" he shouted. Soler was doing his best to keep it together as he answered, "Yeah I was but..." he snickered, "I'm not the one who came off the train looking like some one had sucked all the life out of me and chanting "Twoâ€|Days!" he finished as he burst out laughing uncontrollably. Sonic was fuming looking at him as Soler was on the floor rolling around. Sonic was about the shout at him but then thought about it and how that it must've looked. The more he imagined it the more funny it got, even he started to chuckle and eventually started to laugh. Soler stopped laughing for a moment to see him laughing also, "See its pretty funny." He said. Sonic stopped laughing almost instantly and went back to serious, "I'll admit it was a little funny." He said. Soler stood back up and whipped the tears from his eyes, "Oh come on lighten up blue at least were off the train." Sonic thought on it and smiled, "Yeah we are off the train." Sonic said smiling. "Now if you two are done with your little bro moment let's get on with finding your friend." Rainbow said flying passed them with the others. Manehattan had to be by far the biggest city they have seen so far in this world. And it had to be most crowded to. There were skyscrapers that looking liked they touched the sky and there were ponies everywhere just hustle and bustling around. It was hard to not bump into anyone and Soler, Sonic, Tails, and Knuckles were constantly apologizing to ponies. While the boys were having a rough time trying to walk through the crowd the girls were walking through just fine since this wasn't there first time being in the city. "Oh don't you just love the city." Rarity said in an awe voice. "Rarity you say that every time we come here." Applejack said, "Well darling I'm sorry for showing my enthusiasm but this is simply the most exquisite city in all of Equestria." She said dreamily. AJ rolled her eyes. "Well I'm sorry to stop your lovely conversation." Knuckles started but stopped to apologize to another pony, "But is there a more open place for us to start our search like a park or something." He asked. Sonic noticed that Tails hasn't decided to fly to avoid the crowd, "Why aren't you flying little buddy?" He asked. Tails had to say sorry for bumping into another pony before responding, "Well I would but I don't have enough space to propel my tails." He explained. The group made their way to central park to break and plan their next step. The park was quite beautiful there were still ponies around but there was a lot more space for everyone. From the part of the park they were in there were ponies having picnics and fillies playing around enjoying the weather. "Man this park sure is beautiful. And big." Sonic said. Twilight nodded, "Yea it takes up the middle of the city so it's in a place where every pony can go to. Now that we have space let's plan our next move in finding Shadow." She said. They found a place to sit and started to discuss what to do, "Okay so obviously this city is huge so we're going to have to split up in pairs." Twilight said. Everyone agreed, "Okay but what are the pairs?" Rainbow asked. That's when Sonic stood up, "Well the pairs will be, Soler and I, Tails and Knuckles, Twilight and Rarity, Fluttershy and Rainbow, and lastly Rarity and Applejack." He said proudly. Everyone looked at him blankly then turned their attention back to Twilight to hear the real pairs. Sonic felt utterly defeated, "Oh come on my pairs were logical. Right Soler?" Sonic looked to Soler for confirmation but was defeated again to see he was reading a letter he had gotten with a smile on his face. "Soler!" Sonic shouted which snapped him out of his letter. "What's up Sonic? You say something?" he asked. "Yeah don't you agree with my pairs?" he asked. Soler looked confused, "Twilight's probably going to handle pairing us up don't worry leave it to her." He said back with a smile and went back to his letter. With Sonic defeated he just sat back down and listened to the pairings, "Okay so the guys have never been to this city so one of us will have to go with them to search with them." She started, "So I'll start off by going with Soler." She said, "Wait how do you just get to pair yourself up with him?" Rainbow asked. "Well I'll ask him how he feels about it." Twi started, "Soler how do you feel with being paired up with me?" he was busy in his letter and wasn't paying attention. "Soler!" she shouted, he responded this time halfheartedly, "Yeah Twi?" he responded, "How do you feel about us being paired together?" she asked again, "Yeah sounds cool to me." He said without looking up from the letter. She smiled, "See he doesn't mind." She responded, Rainbow just rolled her eyes. "Okay so wants to go with Sonic, Tails and Knuckles?" Twilight asked. At first none of them spoke up until Fluttershy spoke, "I'll go with Tails if that's okay with him." She said. He simply nodded and smiled, "It would be my pleasure." Then Applejack spoke up, "I'll go with Knuckles he seems like he's already ticked off so I might as well be there to try keep em calm." She said. Knuckles didn't argue if anything he looked more relieved that she was paired with him than anything. "Well that leaves Sonic. Girls?" Twilight said. "Oh I'll go with Sonic it'd be loads of fun." Pinkie said just then Rainbow spoke up, "Well I guess I'll go with blue boy I just hope he can keep up with me is all." Upon hearing that Sonic perked up and got in her face, "What do you mean keep up I can run circles around you." He responded. Rainbow started at him back, "As if blue I could beat you in a race with my eyes closed in 10 seconds flat." She said. His eye twitched, "Is that a challenge?" "What if it is? Watcha gonna do about it?" she said with there faces just inches apart. Soler looked up from his letter for a second to see the scene, "Just kiss her already." He said with a smirk. The two blushed madly realizing how close they were from each other and backed away. The group laughed. "Well that leaves me with Pinke then." Rarity said. "Okay guys lets spilt up and see if we can find any information on where he could be and meet back here by nightfall okay?" Twilight said. Everyone agreed then each pair went off in a different direction except for Pinke who was till sitting there, "But I wanted to go with Sonic." She said sadly. Rarity stopped and called for her, "Pinke darling lets go I was planning on stopping by the location of my new boutique and maybe we can get some ice cream on the way?" she said. Pinke brightened back up and bounced over too her. "Okidokie pokie loki." She said as the two went off their way.

(P.O.V. Soler and Twilight)

The two had made there way away from the park and towards a hotel, a very nice hotel. Soler whistled when they got inside into the main lobby. It looked bigger on the inside much like most of the big buildings in this world. The floor was covered with a red carpet that had gold stitching designs spiraling on it. The parts that weren't cover with carpet were a white marble that looked polished to perfection. The lobby was a pretty huge as the walls were also a sort of marble and covered with beautiful paintings. Soler and Twilight made there way to the front desk and ringed the bell for service. "Uh Twilight not that I don't like this place I don't think Shadow would be here too many ponies and too bright." Soler said to her. She giggled, "Oh I know he wouldn't be here I just figured that we might be here for a while and would need some rooms to stay in." She responded. Soler nodded, "Makes sense I mean Shadow can be a slippery one." He added. Just then the attendant cam to the counter, "Welcome to our hotel how may I.." he stopped and saw that it was Twilight and his whole attitude changed, "Oh well I wasn't expecting a royal to be coming to this hotel. How may I help you princess Twilight." He said bowing politely. Soler looked at Twilight, "Princess?" he questioned. She starched the back of her head, "I'll explain later." She said and turned her attention to the attendant, "I would like a few rooms ready for my friends and I we might be staying in the city a night." She said. He brightened up, "Well it would be a pleasure if you and your friends stayed here. Well get some of our suites ready for you guys free of charge." He said. This caught Soler by surprise, "Whoa free of charge do we get room service free too?" he asked. "Well of course sir anything for our newly appointed princess." He said and left to get the rooms ready. Soler noticed that Twilight was blushing a bit, "What's wrong Twilight?" he asked her. She was looking down embarrassed, "Well It still feels a little weird to be treated like royalty especially since I've only got recently made into a princess." She said. Soler put a hand on her shoulder and she looked up at him, "Look Twi I know it can feel weird to be treated differently because you got appointed to a new status but don't let it get to your head, which I can see your not, and just keep in mind why it is you became a princess. Okay?" he said. She was blushing madly since his face was close to her and she was looking into his eyes, "Yeah I won't forget." She said Soler smiled and got back up, "Glad to here it now lets go and search for Shadow you can tell me how and what you're a princess of later." He said as he led them out of the hotel. It was still busy outside and it was midday already. He sighed, "Don't worry I'm sure well find him." Twilight said, "I'll go call a cab." She went of to hail down a cab. Soler watched her frantically try and hail one down and smiled. He then felt a tingle down his neck like someone was watching him. He looked up towards a near by building to see no one there. "Must be imagining things." He thought in his head. He turned and went to help Twi hail a cab. Little did he know that he wasn't imagining it but someone was watching him.

(P.O.V. Sonic and Rainbow)

The two were going through the crowd looking for any sign of Shadow. Rainbow was flying avoiding most of the crowd while Sonic was maneuvering around ponies getting used to how everyone moved in the city. He looked up at Rainbow who was a little ahead of him and he was looking at her cutie mark. Rainbow felt him staring and turned around to him, "Are you enjoying the view?" she asked slyly. He blushed a bit and shook his head, "It wasn't like that I was just wondering how you guys get those cutie marks on your flanks. I see that everyone has a different one so they must be special or something." He said. She laughed a bit, "Well you know you could just ask me how I got it instead of just staring at my flank all day. Unless your into that stuff that is." She teased him. He blushed harder, "Well if you slow down I would like to hear how you got it and no I'm not some closet perv or anything." He said. She laughed and slowed down to tell him the story of how she got her cutie mark. Once she was done Sonic was impressed to hear she saved Fluttershy as a kid and that her rainboom united all of her friends together. 'That's kind of cool RD how your one rainboom united all of your friends and got them their cutie marks too." he told her. She smirked, "Yeah I know if you hadn't noticed I'm kinda awesome so that's all in a days work for someone like me." She said cockily. Sonic rolled his eyes, "Well miss awesome could you fly up and see if you see any sign if Shadow." She flew up and scanned the dozens of ponies. "You would think a black hedgehog would be easy to see." She said to her self as she flew back down. "Anything?" Sonic asked RD shook her head, "Nothing." Sonic sighed, "Well I should've expected Shadow to be hard to find." He said, "How did you meet this Shadow guy by the way?" RD asked him. "Well that's a long story." Sonic said. "Well it's about lunch time so lets break for lunch and you can tell me the story." She said. Sonic agreed reluctantly and the two found an outside bistro to eat at. The two found some seat outside and waited for a server. Sonic looked at the menu, "You guys don't eat anything that has meat in it?" he asked RD. She shook her head, "Nope were a herbivores so we eat anything that isn't meat related." She responded. Sonic sighed, "Well at least you guys got pasta I guess I'll order that." The waiter came and the two placed in there orders and waited for the sever to return. "So now tell me the story of how you and Shadow met." Rainbow said. Sonic told her the story of how he and Shadow met (SA 2) mid way through the story the sever came back with there good. "So Shadow was created by Eggman grandfather who was trying to get revenge on the world?" She asked very into the story. Sonic took a bit of his food and nodded, "Yeah It crazy but he created life and that's not even the end of it." he said as he continued the story ending on how he and Shadow stopped the ark form falling onto the planet. They had finished their food and Rainbow was in awe at his adventure. "Man your adventures sound so awesome!" she said. Sonic smirked and drank the last of his juice, "Yeah they are pretty cool but extremely difficult at the time." he said. "Do you have any other adventures you could tell me about they sound so cool." She asked him, "Well sure I do but we should really get back to searching for Shadow." Sonic said. "Awe come on blue another story wouldn't hurt anything and plus you get to spend more alone time with this awesome Pegasus in front of you." She said. He laughed a bit, "Well I could tell you the time I went into a book and fought a king." He said. That caught her full attention, "You went inside a book and fought a king?" The two spent the rest of the afternoon talking and Sonic tell RD stories of his adventures.

(P.O.V. Tails and Fluttershy)

Tails and Fluttershy had been walking around the city for quite sometime and still had found no trace of Shadow anywhere. "Man Shadow why do you have to be so hard to find." Tails said exhausted. Fluttershy took notice to Tails since they had gone to get him and had wanted to ask him some questions but ever since they were paired up she had been too nervous to say a complete sentence around him. The whole time the two had been looking it had been mostly him talking, pointing things out, or just saying things he noticed and she was only giving simple one or two word replies. "Come on Fluttershy this is your chance to ask him some questions and maybe get to know him better, stop being so shy and talk." She thought to herself. She looked up at him and noticed how his eyes always looked like they were calculating or seeking an answer, trying to find another puzzle to solve. His blue eyes seemed to always mesmerize her even when he wasn't looking at her. The help he gave her the past few days with her animals and just things around her cottage made her see Tails differently even though when she told him that he didn't need to help her he insisted that he would rather be helping. She's only spent a little time with him but she has grown so fond of him and his company. The two had been walking for quite some time and were getting tired of all the constant walking. "Hey Fluttershy you know any place that we can rest for a while?" Tails asked. This seemed to catch her by surprise, "Wha...um..." she stuttered. He looked at her and saw how flustered she was, "Is everything alright Flutters?" he asked. She looked into his eyes which only caused her to get more flustered and she started to blush, "I..I..um.." she stuttered again. Tails smirked, "What's wrong cats got your tongue?" he joked, "More like fox got my tongue." She thought to herself. His stare wasn't wavering which didn't help her stop stuttering; she needed a distraction and fast. As on cue they heard a commotion not far from where they were, "I wonder what's going on?" Tails said, "Come on let's see what's going on." He said and took her hoof. When he took her hoof her face turned a complete red, "Oh my Celestia he's holding my hoof." She thought to herself. The two made it to the commotion to see that there was a sort of street parade going on. Seeing the performers seemed to completely take away all of Fluttershy's nervousness as she was at awe at the performers. There were ponies dressed in very colorful clothes and makeup on very big and bright floats doing different tricks and moves to the music. "Wow I wonder what cause these guys to out on a performance." Tails said in awe. The sun was starting to go down to which everyone thought that the performances were going to stop but instead the group turned on lights that were on the floats and attached to the clothes, which gave the most beautiful light show, they have ever seen. Fluttershy looked at Tails and could see the pure enjoyment in his face watching the floats go by. The lights from the floats seemed to make his eyes glisten which caused her a slight blush. She then looked at his hand and realized that he was still holding her hoof.

(P.O.V. Knuckles and Applejack)

Knuckles and Applejack had made their way to a food market in search for Shadow. "Something tells me Shadow won't be here." Knuckles said. Applejack just looked at him, "Well I reckon we might as well take a look around. It won't do no harm." She said. Knuckles just nodded and the two made their way through the market. The marketplace was packed with ponies going from place to place trying to buy and sell food. They could hear business stallions and mares giving their best sales pitches to get customers. The smells that the place was giving off were wonderful to the senses. Knuckles couldn't help but keep his nose in the air taking in all the smells. AJ noticed this and smirked, "I reckon you haven't smelt anything like this before?" she said. He stopped smelling the air and looked at her, "Well we don't have many open marketplaces back in our world. Plus I don't tend to get out much." He said the last part kind of low. Applejack took notice to that last part, "What was that last part partner?" she asked. Knuckles looked at her, "It's nothing lets just keep moving." He said moving through the market. The two had made their way towards the docks of the island. Knuckles, was taking in the sights of the island the beauty of seeing their monument across the sea standing proudly. He closed his eyes to take in the sea air as it blew with the wind. AJ saw how much he was enjoying the view and air, "So I reckon you also never been this close to the sea?" she asked him. He opened his eyes and looked out to the sea, "No I don't get to see things like this often." He said. His voice almost sounded a bit sad, Applejack could look at his eyes and see the hidden sadness behind them. She wondered why he never got to see these things back in his world but chose not to ask him about it yet. "Well then since you don't get to see these things in your world how about I show you some sights in my world Knux." She offered. He looked at her, "What about finding Shadow?" he said. AJ waved her hoof, "Oh will keep a lookout for em while were out." She responded. Knuckles thought about it and agreed, "Well knowing Shadow if he doesn't want to be found he won't be found even by us." He said. Applejack took Knuckles from site to site and enjoyed seeing his face brighten up from each place she took him. Eventually the two sat on a bench as it was nearing nighttime and time to head back. "Man going all the way up that statue was amazing and then going to that petting zoo was relaxing. I'm glad you took me to those places AJ." He said to her with a smile. She smiled back, "Well I'm glad I got to see all those sites with ya partner." She responded. Knuckles smiled then closed his eyes, "Man It sucks we didn't find Shadow but at least I got to spend the day with you." He said. Applejack blushed a bit from his remark, then she remembered something from earlier, "Hey Knuckles mind if I ask why don't you get out much in your world?" she asked him. He didn't open his eyes but sighed, "Well if you must know I'm the last protector of this gem called the master emerald on this place called Angel Island which is a floating island." He said. Applejack was amazed to hear of a floating island, "Well why do you have to stay protecting that master emerald? Can't ya have someone else watch over it for ya?" she asked. He shook his head, "Well before I got teleported to this world I made sure that a group of my friends are watching it but on a daily basis it's my job to protect it. They all have things they do that keep them from staying on the island plus I wouldn't want to have them hold that burden when it's mine to keep." He said looking down. AJ could feel that this task he had took up all of his normal time, which made her feel sad about it. Knuckles chuckled, "See I don't want you to feel sorry for me this is the path that was set before me and I except it." he said looking at her. He could see in her eyes that she even thought she was sad to hear he didn't get a lot of personal time but she understood that he had a job to do. The two were looking in each other's eyes for what seemed like hours, neither was able to look away. "What is it about her eyes that just seems to keep me calm." He thought, "What is it about his eye that seem to make me want to learn more about him." She thought. The two didn't realize but they were slowly moving closer and closer to each other, untilâ€¦ "Knuckles come in!" they heard his communicator go off. The two snapped back into reality and moved away from each other blushing, "Yeah I'm here." He said. "Knuckles get back to the park as soon as possible we have a major problem!" they heard Sonic shout followed by a series of explosions and the radio going silent. Knuckles looked at Applejack then the two started to run as fast as they could back to the park.

(P.O.V. none, Central Park)

It was getting dark and all the pairs had to make there way back to the park. Sonic and Rainbow were the first to make it back to the park waiting for the others to get there. "Man I wonder how the others could be such slow pokes." Rainbow said as she sat next to Sonic on the bench. "Yeah I mean we all had a set time to meet back here and were the only ones here." Sonic said. Just then his ears perked up and he jumped from the bench in a fighting stance. Rainbow got up and wondered what's up. "Sonic what's theâ€¦" Sonic cut her off. "Get behind me RD." His voice was serious. She got nervous from his sudden voice change and got behind him. He looked at a darken place are in front of them, "Okay show yourself." He demanded. At first there was no motion then they heard a rustling and a pair of red eyes could be seen from the darkness looking at them. Sonic un-tensed, "Shadow man you almost gave he a heart attack. You know even though your good at being secretive you don't have to be that secretive." He said. The pair of eyes didn't move or blink as it stared right at Sonic and RD. Rainbow saw the eyes and they were making her feel un easy. "Sonic are you sure that's your friend. Something about those eyes make me feel un easy." She said, as she slightly got more behind him. Sonic chuckled, "That's just Shadow he tends to act this way." Sonic said he looked back at the eyes, "Come on out Shadow and stop playing around." He said jokingly. The pair of eyes started to move towards them then they heard a voice as cold as ice, "You should have listened to her hedgehog." Sonics eyes widen as he got back into his stance ready for anything, "What are you doing here?" he demanded. The being slowly moved out into the light and chuckled, "Oh what does it matter how I got here but worry more about of you going to survive." Once in the full light the Rainbow could look and see that it was some robot that looks surprisingly a lot like Sonic. Sonic squinted his eye, "Neo why are you here?" he demanded again. Neo Metal Sonic laughed coldly, "Why else would I be here to terminate a certain hedgehog and finish what I started." He said as he charged a shot in his hand, "And you are in my way." He said and blasted the shot faster than Sonic could move, so the only thing he did do was cover Rainbow from the blast and waited until it hit, but surprisingly it never did. "Humph and your supposed to be make fake when you let you guard down that much. Pathetic." They heard a voice say. Sonic turned and saw the one hedgehog they were looking for all day. A black hedgehog stood in between Neo and Sonic & RD and he didn't look happy. Sonic smirked, "Glad to see you finally showed up. Took you long enough." Sonic said. Shadow looked behind at Sonic and smirked. He looked back at Neo and scowled. Neo laughed, "Well Shadow the hedgehog looks like I can get rid of two annoyances at one time." He said. Shadows scowl deepened, "I don't think you're the one should be making threats now Neo." He said.

Shadow then charged a chaos spear in his hand, "You've caused us enough trouble Neo its time to finish you now!" he shouted and launched the spear at Neo who easily dodged the attack and sent one right back at them to which Shadow teleported the away. "Contact the others and tell them to get here pronto." Shadow said as he teleported back to Neo. "So the are you planning on taking me on by yourself while the other come. You know I only want him and any who stand in my way are just bug to be squashed. Which includes you." He finished darkly. Neo charged two blasts in his hands as he got into a stance. Shadow chuckled, 'I'll show just who's really a bug here." He said as he charged two chaos spears in his hands and launched towards Neo. Soler and Twilight were walking back towards the park. "Man I can't believe that we couldn't find any trace of Shadow anywhere in who city." Soler said sighing. Twilight sighed also, "Yeah I didn't think a black hedgehog would be that hard to find." She responded. Before Soler could respond he felt like a certain presence was near by and he stopped. Twilight noticed this and stopped with him, "What's wrong?" She asked him. He didn't respond but he was more looking around nervously, just then they heard a series of explosions coming from the park. They looked and saw bright flashes of combat going on. Soler tightened a fist, "Twilight we need to get to the park like now. Do you think you can teleport us there?" he asked. She nodded and her horn started to glow then the two popped out from where they were. Shadow and Neo were going toe-to-toe trading blow for blow as neither could get the upper hand on the other. "How is it that he is keeping up with me especially since I got am emerald with me." Shadow thought as he threw another series of spears at Neo who just matched him with his own series of them. The two stopped mid combat and stared at each other. "It seems were at an impasse." Neo said, "That must mean you have a chaos emerald too." Shadow's eyes widen when Neo opened his chest to reveal he had a chaos emerald. Shadow gritted his teeth, "How did you get you hands on one of them!" he demanded. Neo laughed, "What does it matter how I got one just know that I will be collecting the rest to destroy you all but first I have to get the one your holding off your corpse." He said, as he was about to charge at Shadow he took a kick to the face from a new player. He re-centered himself and turned to see who he was looking for all this time, and he was giving him the best scowled he has ever seen. "NEO!" Soler shouted. Neo stood up and chuckled, "Well its great to see you again hedgehog." He said. Soler clenched his fist, "What are you doing here!" He shouted. "Well why do you think I'm here to finish what I started that long time ago." Neo responded. Twilight had been running up with Sonic and RD to see the stand off between Soler and Neo. The look on Soler's face was completely full of hatred for that thing that looked like Sonic. Soler's scowl only deepened as Neo started to laugh, "What's so funny?" Soler asked darkly, "What's so funny is that's the same face you gave me all that time ago right after I killed that little hedgehog you cared about." Soler's fists tightened and a dark energy could be felt coming off of him. Sonic and Shadow knew what was to come next if he didn't calm down but the girls were feeling a new sense of fear as they felt that energy coming off of him. Neo continued, "What was her name again, Neptune, Saturn, I do remember it as named after something from space." He continued, which only grew Soler's anger. It could be seen that his quills was starting to turn dark and that feeling of fear and despair only grew as Neo kept going. "Hmm oh I remember I think her name was Luna. I remember now from that pendant that was around her neck that I took once I saw the last of her life drain from her eyes." He finished. That was the last straw the last of Soler's white quills turned a sickening black, "Don't you everâ€|everâ€|sayâ€|herâ€|NAME!" Soler shouted with a voice that wasn't his own but one much more darker. He opened his eyes to show that his pupils had gone away and showed nothing but a cold white. "I'LL MAKE YOU REGREAT EVER SAYING HER NAME!" Soler said in another voice as he charged at Neo.

And chapter 11 done and the start of arc one has begun. Thanks for sticking with me this long for those who have. From here on the chapters will be longer like I said in the beginning so be prepared. My posting of chapter will be slowed down since it will take me awhile to get them done but I promise I won't give up on this story I love it to much to. So this is Solerwolf OUT! Oh and I was trying something new with the font change at the end so if you don't like it or can't read it I apologize I was feeling creative.
